Propose Widening of All Business Streets

The Editor's column

by S. R. PADDOCK

Persons who enjoy "eating out" will welcome the announcement that Old Orchard is planning a new clubhouse with which will be a modern "eating place" catering especially to a clientele which enjoys good food in an attractive club-like atmosphere.

The present owners of Old Orchard are also making plans for the golf course that will be welcomed by golfers throughout this area.

In all probability before the addition to the present high school building or the new school on Foundry rd. are built, the enrollment capacity will have again caught up with us.

We doubt if any public committee has ever conducted a more thorough investigation of school needs than has the present lay group. Patrons of the school will know that whatever the committee's verdict, it is the best solution.

While the delay since the recent election will mean that any building program will not be completed until 1956, the study has been worth while. Possible mistakes are ruled out. Approval of the voters should be automatic.

We were sincere last week when we advocated that Arlington Heights Community Chest should be continued. However, in the face of the mounting budget caused by the big increase in youths, we agreed, with others, that the task was too great to be accomplished this year.

In the opinion of the guest speaker Friday night, lack of adequate local industry makes a successful large chest quota difficult. There are not enough industrial plants in Arlington to use the payroll deduction plan as is followed in large cities.

We have heard lack of industry blamed for many things, but here is a new one—failure of Arlington Heights Community Chest.

Too many of the commuters employed in Chicago stretch their pocketbook to meet the chest demands of the big city, which in turn leaves practically nothing left for the support of the youth activities of their own children.

Perhaps what Arlington Heights needs is not more industry but more high salaried executives who can support two community chests—Chicago and their home town.

In a first hand account of a trip by camel into the Algiers desert, Calvin Gaare tells of the squalor, disease, smells, insects and inconveniences he experienced when he accepted the home hospitality of his guide, sleeping with ten members of a family in three small rooms without windows.

"Where to Register and Why" is published with maps in this issue as a community service to newcomers who do not know the voting precinct boundaries in which they are located, or the polling places which will be open for registration next Tuesday.

The politics of those who register next Tuesday is unimportant. That registration will give you the right to vote November 2 on the reapportionment of the state legislature, as well as your choice for public office.

We read about gangland activity. Voters have the chance to ban gangland control of our legislature. They must register October 5 in order to vote the Blue Ballot in November.

We heartily approve the first step taken by the Arlington Heights village board to widen all business streets and install mercury lights on them. We can understand the opposition that such a plan will meet, but if the owners of business property on those streets expect business prices for their holdings, they should find a way to finance the improvement.

It is a good omen when even the village dads get disgusted with the time it has taken to widen Dunton and Campbell streets. Perhaps now Arlington Heights original business section can become a real shopping center.

With the increasing population and demands upon the local school system, it is more important than ever that there should be an active Parent-Teacher organization to help our schools do the right job.

The membership drive is now in progress. A membership for both dad and mother costs only $1.00. A single membership is 50c.

With multiple schools in a single school system, the tasks facing the PTA become greater and they need the dollars, as well as personal interest, of all parents.

There have been many benefits held by Jr. Woman's clubs of this area, but we doubt if any of them were for a greater cause than the event that will be held at the Medinah Country Club Friday evening.

The Wheeling School for the Blind is in its first year. The net receipts of the Friday night's dance (price $5.00 per couple), sponsored by the Arlington Heights Junior Women, will help supply some of the additional needed equipment that will enable those blind children to occupy a useful place in this world.

Girl Scouts Seek $10,000 In Joint Fund Campaign

Girl Scout Adults of Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Palatine, and Prospect Heights have announced plans for their coordinated publicity program during the October fund-raising campaigns. These towns form District IV of the Girl Scout Council of Northwest Cook County. All money collected in the fund drives will remain within this council.

The Girl Scout fund drive chairmen from each town met at the home of Mrs. Bruce L. Corbett, public relations chairman of the council, to make plans for a concerted drive to raise the $10,000 necessary to continue the council's fine program.

The chairmen of the fund drives are: Victor Beisler, Arlington Heights; John B. Carnell, Mount Prospect; Otto Eilering, Palatine; and W. H. "Billy" Spears of Prospect Heights. Also in attendance at the publicity meeting were the publicity chairmen from the towns: Bruce L. Corbett, Arlington Heights; H. MacGregor Tuttle, Palatine; and Mrs. Raymond Dietrich, Prospect Heights.

The Girl Scouts of Arlington Heights are sponsoring their own fund-raising campaign this year, since the Community Chest has decided it is too late to begin operations for a 1954 campaign. The chest plans to organize immediately for the 1955 Community Chest campaign; at that time the Girl Scouts will again participate.

Within this district there are 1183 Girl Scouts and 417 adult Girl Scouts; that is, leaders, troop committee members, board members, and board committee members. It costs somewhat over $8 per girl to provide adequate camping facilities, educational program for adults and girls, and professional guidance.

All the local fund drives will take place during the week beginning Thursday, October 21, and continue until October 28. Since all the communities are covered by Paddock Publications, the Girl Scout representatives from these towns feel they will benefit greatly by combining efforts in the proposed district-wide drive.

Mission Crusaders Develop Action Plan For New High School

Twelve congregations in this area were represented at the meeting of the Lutheran Mission Crusaders held at St. Peter parish hall, Arlington Heights, September 22.

The following committee has been appointed to develop a plan of action for a Lutheran high school in this area: Oscar Cagaan and W. C. Reese of Arlington Heights; Rev. Hertwig of Schaumburg, Rev. W. Koester and William Ewert of Mount Prospect and E. A. Hahn of Palatine.

Arlington Lad Dies Of Spinal Meningitis; 3 New Polio Cases

Donald Arthur, 18 months old, who resided with his parents at the Arlington Trailer park, died September 21, at Cook County hospital, a victim of spinal meningitis.

Three new polio cases, two in Arlington Heights and one in Mount Prospect, were reported this week according to information received from the office of Dr. John Hall, county health director.

Leslie Kellogg, 10, of 626 W. Campbell, and Mrs. Alice Stauder, 705 S. Highland, both of Arlington, were admitted to Evanston hospital September 23. Both have non-paralytic polio.

Judith Kruse, 2, of 100 Railroad ave., Mount Prospect, entered Evanston hospital Tuesday, and is suffering from spinal polio.

Two Killed In Palatine-Wolf Roads Accident

A coroner's jury reached a verdict of accidental death at the inquest Thursday, into the death of Mr. and Mrs. Frank L. Pollex, 3818 N. Bell, Chicago, who were killed in an auto-truck collision at Palatine and Wolf rds., Wheeling township, September 22.

ACCORDING to testimony by investigating county highway police officers, Edward Nechvatas and George Reismen, the couple were dead on arrival at Resurrection hospital.

Ronald L. Porter, 8223 N. Elmore, Niles, who was driving a truck owned by Hicks Gas Co., Skokie, told police he was traveling south on Wolf rd., slowed down for the intersection, but noticed too late that the auto, driven by Pollex, was not going to stop for the stop sign, and was unable to avoid the collision. Pollex was traveling west on Palatine rd.

Both occupants were thrown out of the car following the impact. Porter, also taken to Resurrection hospital, was released after treatment of a head injury.

Pollex was 67 years old and his wife, Ida, was 63. They are survived by one daughter, Mrs. Loraine Odefey, 2148 W. Bradley pl., Chicago.

AN AUTO owned by Ralph Hauptly, 33 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, was badly damaged Sunday morning, when another auto, driven by Richard E. Blain, 1410 E. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, crashed into it. The Hauptly auto was parked in front of 103 S. State rd., when Blain's auto struck it head-on.

Blain told Sgt. Oscar Johnson, investigating officer, that he had leaned over to light his companion's cigarette, when the accident occurred. He was booked for driving under the influence of liquor and causing damage to private property.

Award Contract for Campbell Widening; to Cost $53,851

Trustee Robert Bishop made a motion before the Arlington Heights board of local improvements, Tuesday night that special assessment proceedings be started for the widening of the following streets:

Davis, from State rd. west to Vail; Vail ave., from Eastman st. south to Sigwalt; Dunton ave., from Euclid south to Davis; Evergreen, from Eastman south to Sigwalt; Sigwalt, from Highland east to State rd.; Eastman, from Northwest hwy. east to State rd.; Miner, from Northwest hwy. east to State rd. The motion further stated that these streets, plus Northwest hwy., from Dryden west to Euclid ave., should also have the ornamental lighting installed, such as is now on S. Dunton ave., between Davis and Sigwalt.

The motion was seconded by Trustee Richard Bronwell, and it was then referred to a committee as a whole of the board of local improvements for further study before a final vote on the matter.

In a short discussion on the motion it was the opinion of several of the board members this was the only way to get the overall street widening program underway. They said the village has worked at it piece-meal long enough, only to find it takes from two to three years to widen just one or two blocks. They felt an overall program was the only way to get the work done in the near future, instead of several years from now.

THE CONTRACT for the widening of Campbell st., from Chestnut, east to Evergreen, was awarded Tuesday night to Milburn Brothers, Mount Prospect, low bidder on the project.

Three bids were received, with the Milburn bid totaling $53,851.75. The other bids were from Robert A. Black, Inc., 1312 S. Halsted, Chicago, $55,056.80 and Skokie Valley Asphalt Co., $58,404.50. The Black bid was disqualified, as it was not accompanied by a certified check.

A spokesman for Milburn Bros. said the company would begin the project as soon as the work was released, which should be within 10 days. However, it was doubted that the street could be completed this fall.

New Policeman

JAMES OSTERMAN

The latest patrolman to join the Arlington Heights police force is Joseph Osterman, who took over the job September 16.

Osterman is well qualified for the job having had six years' experience as a police patrolman in the traffic division of the Chicago police department. He is married and the father of six children. The family owns their own home on Maud and Vail ave.

Grand Opening Of Pure Oil Station This Week End

Will's Pure Oil Service, State rd. and South st., Arlington Heights, will hold its grand opening this Thursday, Friday and Saturday.

All customers purchasing 7 or more gallons of gas will receive a free Cannon bath towel, plus a coupon book valued at $8. There will also be three grand prizes awarded patrons, as well as free gifts for all.

The new service station, operated by Willard Heimsoth, is open for business from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. daily. Will formerly operated the State and Golf service station before taking over this building.

Dies of Heart Attack

What started out as a pleasant day of golf ended in death today for a 30 year old Chicago man.

Robert Andrykowski of 4845 W. Foster avenue was golfing at the Old Orchard golf course at Rand and Schoenbeck roads, just outside of Arlington Heights in Wheeling township.

While playing on the green Andrykowski collapsed. A doctor was called and after examining him announced that the north sider had died of an apparent heart attack.

Andrykowski was playing golf with his father-in-law and several freinds when he died.

Costly Gamma Globulin Paid For Out of Polio Funds

Free injections of gamma globulin for those who have been exposed to polio is one of the many services paid for by the National Foundation of Infantile Paralysis, from the funds collected in their annual polio drives.

According to George Harris, a local pharmacist, gamma globulin is sold on the market at $7 for 2 cc's. An adult must have 20 cc's as a polio preventative, which would cost $70 if he had to dig into his own pocket to pay for it.

In order to get aid from the polio foundation anyone who has been exposed to polio need only to go to his doctor, who will write out the prescription. They then go to the Public Health Service in Des Plaines and pick up the serum and return to their own doctor for the injection. The only cost involved would be the payment to the doctor for giving the shot.

Kids' Day sponsored by the Arlington-Prospect Kiwanis club in Arlington Heights and Prospect Heights last Saturday was a big success, with a total of $673.50 collected from the sale of 3,000 bags of peanuts. The funds will be used to promote youth activities in both towns. Buying the first bags of peanuts are Albert W. Goedke, president of the village, second from right, and Sgt. Oscar Johnson, right, and Stuart R. Paddock Sr., left, editor of Paddock Publications. Salesmen are Kiwanis members Dr. Daniel Kennedy, second from left, and Don Hartman. The club thanks all who helped make the project a success. —Staff Photo.

Arlington Heights Abandons '54 Community Chest Drive

Lack of a quorum of members last Friday night of the board of directors of Arlington Heights Community Chest prevented any official action on a 1954 fund drive.

The pros and cons of the possible success of such a drive were freely discussed by representatives of local organizations which were included in the chest budget of 1952 and 1953.

These groups will now probably conduct their own drives for funds. The first of these will be by the Girl Scouts which announced this week that it will open a campaign October 21. Their quota for the four communities is $10,000. Arlington's responsibility has been placed at slightly over $6,000.

The Boy Scout organization will conduct its own annual drive in February. It will at once start work on the organization of its drive workers.

No announcement has been made by the Little League, the Y.M.C.A., the Youth Center or the other agencies.

THE SUGGESTION was made Friday evening that all local youth organizations should unite in one drive to meet their several budgets. Some of the persons present were enthusiastic over such a plan, but it was evident that it is a little late in the year to complete its organization this fall. Those present signified they would lend their personal support to a combined youth fund drive.

The Community Chest fund drive last year netted less than $13,000. Its budget was $23,000. If all of the agencies participating in last year's chest were included for 1954, the minimum amount to be raised would be $33,000. The majority of those present Friday evening were reluctant to take on such a load with no "spade work" having been started.

Donald Swanson, who as a member of a fund raising organization which is conducting a $300,000 drive in Aurora this year, was present as the guest of his brother, Weir Swanson, chairman of Arlington's 1953 Community Chest.

THE VISITOR gave no advice, but he answered a lot of questions. He valuated the difficulties that faced Arlington Heights because such a large percentage of its citizentry are employed in Chicago, where they are required to contribute to the Chicago fund.

He stated frankly that because of existing industries, it would be easier to obtain $5.00 per capita in Aurora than half that amount in Arlington. Nearly 70% of Aurora's $300,000 quota will come through industries by payroll deductions.

The group in session Friday evening spent a full three hours in an effort to find the answer and adjourned with no official action. The door is still open for a rebirth next year of the local community chest organization, or a community fund in which only local youth agencies will participate.

Robbers Loot Home; Hold Owner At Gun Point

No new information has turned up on the thieves who entered the Everett Ballard home, 407 E. Rockwell, Arlington Heights, September 23, and made off with jewelry and cash estimated at more than $1200. Sgt. Raymond Jahnke and Patrolmen Ira Melbourne and Irvin McDougal handled the investigation.

BALLARD, who was alone when the robbery occurred, had retired for the evening when he heard the door bell. Upon answering it he found two men in police uniform who asked to come in in order to ask some questions. As soon as he admitted them they pulled a gun on him and forced him to lie face down on the floor.

Guarded constantly by one of the gunmen, he heard one or two other men enter the house, and he also thought he heard the voice of a woman who proceeded to ransack the whole house and basement. While this was going on they kept asking him where he kept his jewels and where his safe was. He insisted there were none.

After about 20 minutes one fellow gave orders to start the motor on the car. They then taped his legs and when they started to tape his arms and hands, found a ring he was wearing and made him take it off. When he pleaded with them to let him keep it as it was a gift from his father, they said, "Take it off or we'll bash your head in."

THE RING was a 32nd degree Scottish rite ring, having ¾ carat diamond mounted in the center of a solid yellow gold band. The diamond was feathered and the ring valued at $1,000. Other jewels taken belonged to Ballard's daughter, Barbara, and included a pair of rhinestone earrings, rhinestone necklace and three interlocking rhinestone bracelets. These were all in a blue leatherette box along with other jewelry, having a total value of approximately $200.

A box containing Mrs. Ballard's jewelry, which was valued at approximately $1500, was left on the kitchen sink in a yellow pillow case, which they apparently put down when they cut the telephone wires.

One bandit was described as being approximately 6 feet tall, 30-35 years old, dark complexion, medium build and spoke with a soft, pleasant voice.

Chicago Chest Drive Commuter Cards Can Aid Local Agencies

October 4 the Community Chest Drive in Chicago begins. Residents of local communities who work in Chicago firms are asked to request the Suburban Cards so that they can indicate the town in which they live. By doing this the Community Chest Agencies within the suburban communities derive some support from the Chicago pledges. The local agencies who will benefit include Girl Scouts, Boy Scouts, YMCA and many others.

Elm Disease Threatens Trees Of This Area

Residents of the northwest country towns were warned this week that Dutch elm disease presents a critical threat to thousands of elm trees in this area.

THE WARNING was issued at a meeting of community officials called by William N. Erickson, president of the Cook county board, and also attended by Ray Gosch, Arlington Heights nurseryman.

The group was addressed by Dr. Leo R. Tehon, head of botany and plant pathology, and Dr. J. C. Carter, plant pathologist, of the Illinois natural history survey, Urbana. They pointed out that the disease has been found infecting elms in 52 Illinois counties.

Gosch explained to a reporter Tuesday that Dutch elm disease, a destructive fungus ailment of elms for which science knows no remedy, has infected trees in Kankakee, Joliet, Aurora, and Highland Park.

"A healthy tree—like a healthy human—can be immune from disease," Gosch said. "It is important to take sanitary measures—destruction of all dead elms and dead wood in otherwise healthy elms—and to spray healthy trees with DDT in the vicinity of diseased trees in order to preserve the elms."

There are more elms in this area than any other single species of trees. Spraying should be done in early spring and late summer by reputable tree surgeons.

PURPOSE OF the preventive program is to control the European bark beetle, a tiny insect which breeds in dead elm wood and is capable of transmitting the disease from infected to healthy trees.

Dr. J. A. Cousins, 511 Beverley, Scarsdale, brought samples of diseased elm into Paddock Publications office this week to show how branch tips flake and die.

Erickson urged communities in this area to sponsor a control program to stop the spread of the tree disease.

No High School Magazine Drive This Year

Students at Arlington Heights high school are not conducting a magazine drive this year. Several persons have called the high school office saying they have been contacted by students who said they were getting subscriptions for the high school drive.

According to H. L. Slichenmyer, superintendent of Arlington high, these students are probably from neighboring schools. He did not want local residents to be misled that Arlington Heights high school was holding the drive.

Rest Home Owner Accuses Nephew of $15,000 Robbery

A 26-year-old parolee from Pontiac prison robbed his aunt last week of $6,600 and two rings valued at $11,000 because he "needed money and she's got too much anyway."

The youth, Claude Dozier, of 4727 Kenmore ave., Chicago, was arrested Saturday after he slugged Mrs. Bee Dozier, 65, in her Hickory Hill sanitorium, on rte. 12 a mile south of Lake Zurich. She was slugged during the robbery.

SENTENCED TO Pontiac five years ago for grand larceny, Claude's aunt sponsored him when he was released on parole last June. One of the conditions was that he work for her, but he quit after six weeks and went to work for a hotel at 411 S. Wabash ave., in Chicago. He left that job two weeks ago.

Mrs. Dozier gave this account of the robbery:

Early Saturday two masked bandits broke in the kitchen door of the sanitorium. They tied Paul Bayliss, the cook, and two attendants, Oliver Fannan and Neal Bledsoe and then awakened Mrs. Dozier. They forced her at knifepoint to open the safe, from which they stole the cash and rings. They took two pistols from hiding places, slugged Mrs. Dozier on the head with one of them, and tied her with a shirt.

Detectives were seeking Buddy Reynolds, 38 W. 110th pl., who was a former prison mate of Dozier and whom he named as his companion in the robbery.

CLAUDE WAS arrested in the apartment of a "26" girl, Paula Kann, of 4731 N. Kenmore ave. He had $1,100 in his pockets and police found $900 and the two pistols in his room. He said that Reynolds had the rings and the rest of the money.

Mrs. Dozier also operates the Maple Hill sanitorium, route 53 and Hicks rd., and Bee Dozier sanitarium on Dundee rd., Palatine.

"I'll prosecute him to the full extent of the law," Mrs. Dozier said. Two of Claude's brothers robbed the aunt of $5,100 four years ago and were sentenced to prison. They are now on parole in California.

300 Acres To Be Added To Rolling Meadows

Kimball Hill has purchased an additional 300 acres of adjoining farmland to extend his development of Rolling Meadows.

The newly-acquired property includes the farms of Aribert F. Wild, Albert Kastning, Herman Moehling and the Henry Hinrichs estate.

It is estimated that within five years there will be three 40-room elementary schools built by Hill and turned over to the Palatine school district.

The roof is now on to the first 18-room Rolling Meadows school, and the glass is being put in this week.

Any further land purchases by Mr. Hill are problematical, depending upon the owners of other farms in that area.

School Lay Group Forms Special Committee To Present Recommendations

Patrons of Arlington Heights high school district can expect a definite recommendation before the end of October on the course that the high school board should take to meet the expected future enrollment of the school.

Reports of the committees on finance, expansion of present building and new building were presented to the lay committee Thursday evening. Their reports and those previously given by the committees on expansion and on present and future growth, will be turned over to a committee on recommendations.

Included in that committee are the chairman of each of the following committees: N. M. Lattof, general chairman; George Sicks; publicity; Byron Sayre, finance; E. Brookhouzen, expansion of present building; George Hoban, new building; David Zimmermann, growth; Mrs. Harriet Chambers, enrollment; D. Blix, chairman of expansion.

IT IS EXPECTED that two meetings will be necssary by the new committee before final recommendations are placed before the entire Lay committee, which in turn will make its recommendation to the patrons of the high school.

It appears that all persons serving on the committees agree that something must be done as soon as possible to provide additional high school facilities.

Two possibilities are being considered — the immediate erection of a $1,500,000 addition to present building and asking for a bond issue that would provide both the addition and a new school on Foundry rd., or a 32-room addition to the present school to make capacity use of the present cafeteria and gymnasium.

The expected further expansion of the Kimball Hill area may require a feeder school at some future time. Mr. Hill told a reporter this week that within five years there would be three 40-room elementary schools in the area he is developing.

Elementary School Band Concert Friday

ment of the Arlington Heights public schools will present the first concert of the new school year Friday, at 8 p.m. in the Junior high school cafeteria.

The program will include the following numbers: William Burfeind, drum solo; Patty Mills, clarinet solo; Charles and John Ninnemann, violin duet; Wayne Thomson E flat alto horn solo; and trombone solo, John Taylor.

The band is under the direction of Harold Brunt, and it has 91 members from the fourth through the eighth grade. Admission will be fifty cents for adults and 25 cents for children.

Fire Prevention Week Set For October 3-9

Fire Chief Elroy Winkelman, Arlington Heights, stated Wednesday that Fire Prevention Week this year is being observed October 3-9.

Its purpose is to direct public attention to the tremendous annual loss of life and property resulting from fire, and to the safety measures which must be taken if these losses are to be reduced.

President Eisenhower, in his proclamation setting aside this one week of the year for nationwide fire prevention effort, has pointed out that safety to life and property is the year-around responsibility of each one of us — as individuals, and as members of our communities and of the nation.

Through our combined efforts, we can help make America safe from fire.

Volunteers of America Tag Day Saturday

The annual Tag Day in behalf of the Volunteers of America is being conducted Saturday in Arlington Heights, under the able leadership of Mrs. O. R. Larsen, with headquarters at the municipal building. Any child wishing to help this cause may and for their efforts receive an award.

The organization, with 59 years of welfare service to its credit, is of a religious and civic nature, regardless of color or creed, and cooperates with the local welfare programs.

Well and favorably known to the Better Business Bureaus, the Association of Commerce & Industry as well as all Welfare Leagues throughout the 48 states, it has the endoresement of every president of the United States since the late President William McKinley.

Eastwood Events

Eastwood board of directors held its regular monthly meeting last Thursday at the home of Jack Anderson. Final plans were made for the October 5 meeting of the association to be held at 8 p.m. at the field house. This meeting will be devoted to safety and highlight of the evening will be the showing of safety films with Judge Neumann as guest speaker. All residents of Eastwood are cordially invited to attend.

Those who have entered the bridge tournament will be given their schedules, rules and regulations by this week end, as October is the month for the playing to begin.

Sympathy

Friends and neighbors of Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Runyon wish to express their sympathy on the sudden loss of their daughter-in-law, Mrs. Bonnie Runyon, who died of polio. Those close to the Runyons know of the active parts they played in the fight against polio, with Mr. Runyon working for the Polio Foundation for many years, and Mrs. Runyon putting her efforts in the Mothers' March for Polio.

We are happy to report that Dickie Evans has returned to school, after spending two weeks convalescing from a fall that could have proved very serious.

Birthday Luncheon

Billy Raasch celebrated his Sept. 23 birthday a few days ahead of time by having a few friends for lunch and then taking them to the movies. Billy was 9 years old.

Donna Burrow enjoyed her second birthday Sept. 21 with her cousins, aunts, uncles and grandparents on hand for the celebration.

Jackie Mutti was 11 years old Sept. 25 and to celebrate the occasion he had his friends in for refreshments in the afternoon. His mother is recuperating from a fall in their home at which time she injured her right arm.

Caroline Neas was thrilled Sept. 26 when she saw Super Circus along with other intermediate scouts of troop 23.

Tolly Wallace, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wallace, celebrated her sixth birthday Sept. 28 with her friends invited for supper. Highlight of the party was the pony that was kept busy giving the girls rides before they ate. Those who were on hand to greet Tolly were: Carol Cockrell, Mary Bowen, Karen Ellertson, Betsy Shaw, Pamela Thompson, Carol Brouwer, Patty Ewalt, Blair Hall, Lynn Nelson, Becky Dufelmeier and Lynn Edler.

Congratulations

Birthday greetings are extended to Henry Raasch, who will enjoy the day September 30 with his family. This date will also mark the 42nd wedding aniversary of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Raasch. Congratulations to you both.

Joseph Babbs spent a week in Northern Wisconsin fishing. During that time Mrs. Babbs and their daughter, Judy, enjoyed a vacation at Lake Lawn.

St. John Evangelical Church To Observe World Wide Communion

St. John Evangelical and Reformed church, Arlington Heights, will observe World Wide Communion Sunday October 3 at 10:30 a.m.

"Begun in 1940 as part of the world wide preaching mission, nothing quite grips the imagination of Christian people like World Communion Sunday," says Rev. Gerhard Meiners, pastor of St. John church.

The day begins on the other side of the international date line with church members of the Fiji islands and New Zealand taking communion. Moving westward with the advancing hours, millions of persons will gather in their respective churches Sunday to continue with the world wide communion.

St. John church is a constituent member of the National Council of Churches, sponsor of the observance in United States.

Local Citizens For Douglas Group Attend Campaign Conference

The Arlington Citizens for Douglas organization sent some of its leaders to the Palmer House in Chicago last Saturday for a state-wide campaign conference. Attending were Co-chairman and Mrs. R. T. McClaughry, Gerald Chapman, August Burnier and Donald Shaw.

They picked up campaigning savvy from leading Douglas backers in Illinois at the all-day workshop and heard addresses by — among others — the senator and his wife, Emily Taft Douglas, and Sen. Mike Monroney of Oklahoma. Sen. Douglas' address was carried on television.

But the big and little wheels present also had an opportunity to listen to local people. McClaughry and Chapman reported on the preliminary successes of the Arlington Heights C-for-D They were acclaimed by the Illinois leaders and held up as an example of what can be accomplished in other suburbs.

Last Friday, several automobile groups of Arlingtonians drove to Evanston high school to hear Adlai Stevenson urge the re-election of Sen. Douglas.

A television set has been moved into the Arlington Heights headquarters at 17 W. Campbell. Baseball fans who find themselves downtown during the World Series game time are invited to drop in and watch.

Arlington Nursery School Opens Friday

Arlington Nursery school opens this Friday and will be held in the Presbyterian church.

Opening day will find Mrs. Joseph Miller, director of the school, and Mrs. Willard Nelson, who assisted last year, in charge of the pre-kindergarten. Mrs. Robert Skallerup, a new member of the staff, will teach the nursery group of three year olds.

In addition to the regular morning nursery class, there will be a new afternoon session. The morning group is limited to 25 four years old and 15 three-year-olds.

Savings Bond Sales

Cook County residents purchased a total of $24,112,666 in Series E and H United States savings bonds in the month of August 1954. This is an increase of 28.5 per cent over sales of these series in the month of August 1953. Sales of Series H Bonds alone in the county were $6,551,000 as compared to sales of $3,128,500 of this series in August 1953.

In the state of Illinois sales exceeded those of any August since 1945. $39,649,029 in E and H Bonds was purchased in the state. This is an increase of 26.7 per cent over sales for August 1953.

Illinois sales accounted for 9.3 per cent of the National total for the month.

Advertisement For Bids

First Lecture Tuesday At Christian Science Church In Arlington

The healing of sickness and other discords exclusively by prayer based on God's allness, will be the topic of a Christian Science lecture to be given in Arlington Heights, on Tuesday evening, October 5th, at 8:00 p.m. by Jules Cern of New York City. Mr. Cern, a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship, will speak in the church edifice at 401 S. Evergreen Street, under the auspices of First Church of Christ, Scientist, Arlington Heights. His subject will be "Christian Science: The Understanding and Practice of God's Allness." The lecture is free, and local members have invited the public to attend.

A native of Dallas, Texas, Mr. Cern is on a nationwide lecture tour. He has devoted full time to the practice of Christian Science healing since 1935. Prior to that, he was an advertising executive for a large New York department store. After turning from advertising to the theater, he appeared in three plays on Broadway and toured most of the United States and Canada. During World War II he was Volunteer Wartime Worker at Governor's Island, New York.

Women Of The Moose Meeting

Mrs. Ed Pedersen, Rolling Meadows, hospital committee chairman of Women of the Moose chapter 835, is in charge of the group's fish fry to be held tomorrow, Friday from 4:30 to 7:30 p. m. at Moose hall. Games will follow the dinner.

Mooseheart chairman, Mrs. Rypkema, and her committee will be in charge of the October 14 open meeting of the organization. This is the "Christmas in October" meeting and all members and friends of the organization are asked to bring unwrapped gifts which can be forwarded to the children at Mooseheart or the aged at Moosehaven. Mrs. Rypkema can be contacted for gift suggestions. Mrs. Rypkema reports that the November issue of McCall magazine will carry an article on Mooseheart, Ill.

Members celebrated the chapter's eighth anniversary September 23. Charter members who were given special mention and corsages were Mrs. Rocky Schleichert, Mrs. Ernest Van Stockum, Mrs. Howard Becker, Mrs. Jerry Dattilo, Mrs. Joseph Dettlo, Mrs. Edward Cook, Mrs. Harry Hartung, Mrs. Duke Cites, Mrs. Lester Derringer, Mrs. Charles Engel and Mrs. Richard Richter. New candidates were approved for invitation at the October 14 meeting. Mrs. Watkins was installed as guide to serve for the remainder of the year.

Basketball Inventor

Dr. James Naismith invented basketball in the winter of 1891-92.

Political

This column will appear in Paddock Publications until Nov. 2 election.

In Minority

At stake in the November election is whether the Republicans gain solid control of the board of trustees of the Chicago Sanitary district or whether there is continued minority representation in the tradition of the American two-party system.

The three minority Democrats on the board who are up for re-election this year are Casimir Griglik, 7035 Ionia, Frank W. Chesrow, 35 W. Jackson blvd., and John A. Cullerton, 1934 N. 76th ave., all of Chicago.

Entertain Candidate

Joseph D. Lohman, Democratic candidate for the office of sheriff of Cook county, will meet with an informal group Thursday, Oct. 7 at 8 p. m. in the home of John Hoover, 626 Clarendon, Arlington Heights. Mr. Lohman is an outstanding authority in penology, sociology, criminology and labor management.

5,000 Coffee Hours

Over 100,000 women in the State of Illinois will inaugurate 5,000 coffee hours in honor of Joe Meek, Republican nominee for U. S. Senator, on Oct. 4.

Armed with a cup of coffee and a doughnut, they will launch a month of oratory in behalf of Meek. The hostesses at each of these 5,000 coffee hours will ask her guests to give Joe Meek coffee hours every week until the election. Since average attendance will run to about 20, it means that over a million women will participate in these Joe Meek coffee hours.

Fair Play

The chairmen of both political parties have given their unqualified stamp of approval to the efforts of a group called the Fair Campaign Practices committee. Briefly, the committee, including distinguished sponsors from both parties, thinks it would be a good idea if some of the mud-slinging, distortion, untruth, suppression of facts and playing on the fears and prejudices of voters were taken out of campaigning.

To accomplish this, the group is going pretty much to the heart of the matter by giving every candidate for election to Congress this year an opportunity to stand up and be counted on the subject of fair play. It is asking that each candidate sign a pledge that he is willing to abide by certain campaign ethics.

Raised Standards

Noble J. Puffer, candidate for re-election as Cook County Superintendent of Schools has accomplished a great deal for educational standards in the four terms that he has held that office. The standards that he set for Cook County during his early terms of office were adopted by the state of Illinois in 1941 as the minimum standard throughout the state.

He was the first in the state of Illinois to require a surety bond from school treasurers. He also instituted semi-annual audits of all township school funds.

Puffer has kept politics out of the Cook County school system and politics will be forgotten by many Republican voters when they cast their votes Nov. 2.

Faculty of Arlington School of Music

The Arlington School of Music is happy to welcome as a member of its faculty, Mr. James I. Matteoni pianist and teacher.

Mr. James I. Matteoni received his Bachelor's and Master's degree of Music from the American Conservatory, where he studied piano under Howard Hanks. Harmony, Counterpoint and composition from Dr. Leo Sowerby. While in Europe during the war, Mr. Matteoni found time to study at the Conservatory of Milan. As a pianist he has performed in several recitals and has been honored by having had a number of his compositions performed at recitals by other pianists. He also minored in Psychology, and hopes to receive his degree in same soon. In the meantime Mr. Matteoni is continuing his studies in composition with Dr. Sowerby.

Mr. Matteoni comes to us as an experienced teacher, having had notable success ranging from the primary grades to adults. He is fully familiar with the necessary classical aspects of Music, and its pianistic interpretation, and his studies in student psychology supply him with knowledge of the practical value of a musical education for the student.

Guest Speaker At IEA Meeting

ANDREW D. HOLT

Sharing platform honors with Governor William G. Stratton at the annual meeting of the Lake Shore Division, Illinois Education association, will be Andrew D. Holt, vice-president of the University of Tennessee.

The Illinois Governor and Holt will address an expected corwd of more than 10,000 at Northwestern University's McGaw Memorial Hall, October 15.

The Tennessee educator, who will discuss current educational problems, has had teaching experience at the elementary, secondary, and college levels.

In addition to being a former president of the National Education association, Holt has been chairman of the United States delegation to the World Organization of the Teaching Profession in Berne, Switzerland, 1949; a delegate to the Midcentury White House Conference on children and youth, 1950; and a member of the educational advisory council, National Association of Manufacturers.

Toastmistress Club Receives Charter

Midtown Toastmistress — lud —

To celebrate the occasion of receiving its charter from International Toastmistress clubs, the Midtown Toastmistress club held a banquet at Mount Prospect Country club September 27.

The club, organized six months ago, has 21 charter members who were present with their husbands and guests from other Toastmistress clubs throughout the Chicago area. Russell Puzey, past president of International Toastmasters and general evaluator for the evening, was also present with Mrs. Puzey.

The invocation, given by Mrs. Ella Curtis of the Ernastine White club, was followed with the introduction of guests by Mrs. Floyd Parker, president of the Midtown Toastmistress club. Among the honored guests were Miss Betty Haske, International Toastmistress club director, Mrs. Ethel McIntosh, chairman of Council Five, who presented Mrs. Parker with a gavel, and Russell Puzey. Toastmistress for the evening was Mrs. Harold Bloss and toastmistress Mrs. Carl Palmer who introduced member speakers for the evening, Mrs. Robert Applehans, Mrs. Jerry Johnson and Mrs. Rava Coussens.

At the conclusion of the program the charter was presented to the Midtown Toastmistress by Miss Betty Haske and accepted by Mrs. William Nielsen, newly elected president of the organization.

Hindu Ordained as Pastor Unitarian Church at Hinsdale

Dr. Sunder Joshi, a former Hindu, was ordained and formally installed as minister of the Unitarian church of Hinsdale last Sunday. Assisting in the ceremony were five dignitaries, among them his former teacher, Dr. A. Eustace Haydon, chairman emeritus, Dept. of Comparative Religion of the University of Chicago and leader, Chicago Ethical Society.

Having lived and received his education on three continents, Dr. Joshi has obtained a broad insight on the major religions of the world. He has studied at five universities and has received three degrees in six fields of the humanities and social sciences.

As the Unitarian church has no creed, Dr. Joshi pledged to maintain the freedom of the pulpit, to speak the truth in love; but without fear of persons. To promote righteousness and peace among this people and with all mankind.

On Sunday, Oct. 3, at 11 a.m., Dr. Sunder Joshi's sermon will be, "My Confessions (or A Professor Turns Parson)."

For any information regarding this church, call Mr. or Mrs. Clyde Lee Emrich, CLearbrook 3-3437.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS PHARMACY Monthly News

A message from George Harris, 'Your Pharmacist'

NATIONAL PHARMACY WEEK (Oct. 3 - 9th) is our yearly reminder to you about the important place Pharmacy has in your life.

RESEARCH SCIENTISTS, PHYSICIANS, and CHEMISTS are engaged in a continuous effort to find better ways to help you to live a healthier, longer, and sickness-free life.

YOU GET the benefit of all this research whenever you bring us a prescription to compound. Naturally we are proud of our Profession of Pharmacy which enables us to be part of this great health team.

EACH PHARMACY WEEK we rededicate ourselves once again to the Code Of Ethics of Pharmacy, which states that, "The Pharmacist Holds The Health And Safety Of His Patrons To Be Of First Consideration."

WE THANK YOU for the opportunity to be Your Pharmacist.

Membership Forms Out Tomorrow

If your own particular little "Menace" draws a blank tomorrow, be sure to search his or her pockets for your PTA membership application. It should be filled out and returned Monday, October 4, along with the required 50 cents per member. However, the membership drive will be continued through October 8, to accommodate both large and small forgetters.

You will not want to miss receiving the Foreword, which contains news about programs, events, policies, and messages from the superintendent of schools, Ralph E. Clabaugh. Nor will you want to miss hearing the many fine speakers who have been engaged for the monthly programs to come, among them Dr. Robert F. Topp of the National College of Education in Evanston, Dr. Carl Winters of the First Baptist church in Oak Park, Marcia Winn, well-known writer for the Chicago Tribune, Dr. Franklin Fitch of the Association for Family Living, Father Hubbard of the Episcopal church of Park Ridge, Dr. Harold Shane of Northwestern university, Dr. Lois Higgins, Dr. D. Harold Westlake of Northwestern University, Mr. Robert R. Lockwood, President of the Board of Education, and our own Mr. Clabaugh. Added attractions will be productions by the Village Theatre and special programs yet to be announced.

If you have no child in school, but would like to be a part of this largest community organization in Arlington Heights, you may become a member by calling Mrs. Charles McNary at CLearbrook 3-4450. Since the life of our children, both at home and at school, and the provisions made not only for their education but their recreation and moral upbringing as well are problems that affect the entire community, the PTA will welcome as a member any person who feels that what the child does in the present will determine his future development and his relations with others. If you have children under school age, if you have children over school age, or if you have no children at all but feel the responsibility of the community for the training of its youth, you will wish to become a part of this organization which has as its stated objects:

1. To promote the welfare of children and youth in home, school, church and community.
2. To raise the standards of home life.
3. To secure adequate laws for the care and protection of children and youth.
4. To bring into closer relation the home and the school, that parents and teachers may cooperate intelligently in the training of the child.
5. To develop between educators and the general public such united efforts as will secure for every child the highest advantages in physical, mental, social and spiritual education. (From the by-laws of the Arlington Heights Parent-Teacher Association.)

District 21 Conference Speakers Announced

Delegates and members of 75 PTA units, representing six councils and 22 suburbs, will meet October 14 in Arlington Heights, at the St. Peter Lutheran school, 325 N. Highland, for the 33rd annual conference of District 21 of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers. Outstanding speakers will develop various phases of the theme, "Swing into Action for Better Homes, Schools, and Communities."

Mrs. Melvin C. Lockard, president of the Illinois Congress of Parents and Teachers; Mrs. Fred J. Pannwitt, Evanston; Mrs. Lee V. Vernon, magazine chairman of the ICPT; Dr. Martin H. Bartels, director of placement, Northern Illinois State Teachers' college, DeKalb; Mrs. Vincent McDade, scholarship chairman; and Mr. Frank C. Thomas, superintendent of public schools of Barrington, will speak. Mrs. Martin H. Seifert, director of District 21 of the ICPT, will preside.

As host to District 21 delegates Arlington Heights PTA has made all arrangements, including luncheon for the visitors, with Mrs. C. H. Rosene, president of the PTA, in charge. Any member of the PTA who would like to attend this unusual meeting is invited.

Luncheon reservations may be made by calling Mrs. Rupert Vittinghoff, 623 N. Douglas, CLearbrook 3-4799, before October 8. Tickets must be picked up and paid for at 9:30 a.m., October 14, at the time of registration. Charge for the luncheon is $1.50.

Bicycles Inspected

Mrs. Howard Trendel, safety chairman, reports that bicycle inspection was carried out Monday, Tuesday, and Wednesday at both morning and afternoon sessions in all schools. After the bicycles were inspected by members of the Arlington Heights police department under the supervision of Sgt. Oscar Johnson. Mrs. Trendel and her co-workers taped the bicycles with reflective tape. Among the many mothers who assisted in the project were school chairmen, Mrs. Harold Froyd, Junior high school; Mrs. R. Vittinghoff, North school; Mrs. Carl Behrens, South school; Mrs. Robert Schultheis, Ridge school; and Mrs. Everett Dovale, Dryden school.

National Parent-Teacher

Be sure to watch for your October Foreword, which will contain a subscription blank for the National Parent-Teacher magazine. If you missed the opportunity to subscribe earlier, you may still take advantage of this worthwhile publication.

Junior High Room Mothers Meet Tonight

The annual Junior High room mothers' tea will be given this evening at 8:15 at the Junior high school cafeteria. Room mothers at North and Ridge schools were honored last evening, and those at South and Dryden schools Monday evening.

Round Robin Starts Soon

Mrs. Raymond Driscoll, chairman of the Round Robin bridge, reports a good registration for this event. Those who are taking part will receive their schedules in the mail, the first meeting taking place in October. Due to popular demand, a ladies' evening group has been formed this year, in addition to the regular tables.

Bundle Days October 21-22

As you are going through closets and getting clothes ready for the winter, remember "bundle days" October 21 and 22. Clean, wearable clothing, both adults' and children's, is needed for relief.

'Magic Barrel' To Be Opener of Lions Club

A "Magic Barrel" of entertainment will be rolled out for the Arlington Heights Lions club, at its October 5 meeting.

L. W. Ewing of Standard Oil company will present the popular "Magic Barrel" show, in which he will demonstrate how the petroleum and chemical industries have made available from a barrel of oil thousands of products to enrich the daily lives of Americans.

Born and educated in New Hampshire, Mr. Ewing received his engineering degree from the University of New Hampshire. He engineered flood control dams and defense airports in New England and later worked on design, construction, and operation of four military product pipelines across the Panama isthmus.

Starting with Standard in 1948 as a senior engineer in the products pipe line department, he was soon advanced to assistant chief engineer.

Married and the father of four children, he is active in community government in Arlington Heights, where he lives, and has hobbies such as skiiing, sailing, flying, painting and photography.

He is chairman of the Chicago section of the National Association of Corrosion Engineers and is also a member of the Society of American Military Engineers.

4000 Eaters Jam Brandt Restaurant For Grand Opening

Nearly 4,000 patrons, many of them children, jammed the new Brandt's restaurant in Palatine this week end to help Joe Brandt celebrate his grand opening.

"And it was a grand affair," beamed Joe. "We had 2000 persons on Sunday alone, and they were all so wonderfully patient while we were rushed."

Brandt publicly thanked four couples for their assistance as hosts and hostesses. They were: Mr. and Mr. M. Melilli, Mr. and Mrs. Neal Dean, Mr. and Mrs. Milton Coey, and Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Baumgartner. He also expressed his appreciation to Police Chief Frank Meyer for his work in handling traffic.

The three-day opening was highlighted with special entertainment, including strolling mucians, singers, and photographers.

Along the Camp Fire trail

For thousands of blue birds, camp fire girls, and Horizon club girls in the Chicago area, school bells mean a new seasn ahead of fun and friendship activities, indoor and out, and an opportunity to develop good citizenship habits through participation in community service projects. Two Blue Bird groups in Arlington Heights will take part in the program, under the direction of co-Mrs. Kenneth Auer, Mrs. Marty Nicol, and Mrs. Louis Schomburg.

Although their group program will cover a wide range of subjects, the school-bound camp fire girls will find real interest in carrying on their 1954 birthday project, "Let's Be Different Together!"

This year 'round project, which highlights camp fire's fourty-fourth birthday celebration, gives girls an opportunity to carry out a program based on international friendship.

In being "different together," camp fire girls will increase their efforts to learn more about customs and cultures of people in other lands. And, because they believe that international understanding grows out of the individual efforts of people to learn more about each other's way of life, they feel that the best approach to global friendship is one based on friendly curiosity.

Learning how people live in near and far-off lands, camp fire girls become conscious of the fact that national differences, like similarities, can be a strange force in making the world a better and more interesting place.

Typical activities were carried out by the camp fire girls in the Chicago area, where they served dinners representative of other lands, dressed in native costumes and sang folk songs from foreign lands.

Other groups staged a "Folk Festival of Five Continents" and featured homes of other countries from an igloo to an African thatched roof hut.

Through out Chicago and its suburbs, camp fire girls are eagerly looking forward to their after-school meetings when they will start to work on several projects to bring Christmas cheer to needy children in our own country and around the world.

Founded in 1910, Camp Fire provides a health and character building program for girls from 7 to 18 years of age.

Set October 15 For Arlington Homecoming

Homecoming at Arlington Hts. high school is scheduled for October 15, with the local Cardinals scheduled to meet Glenbard on the gridiron.

The student-faculty committee in charge of homecoming programs are planning a greater emphasis on alumni than has been known in the past.

Because of the increase in the number of homerooms, freshmen and sophomores will double up, two homerooms combining to produce one float. Even so, the parade will contain 41 floats.

Since the fall teachers' institute is scheduled for the same day, there will be no classes Homecoming day.

Sophomores Eligible For National Honor Society

Five per cent of the sophomore class at Arlington Heights high school will be eligible for National Honor Society this year, Betty Cobb, sponsor of the local chapter announced this week.

Membership in this national organization is highly prized among students. In previous years it has been restricted to juniors and seniors.

To qualify, a student must be in the upper 25 per cent of his class scholastically, be recommended and recognized as a person of superior character, have a record of service to the school and leadership among his classmates.

Free Bingo Party At Legion Hall Tonight

A big free bingo party will be held tonight, Thursday, at the Arlington Heights American Legion hall, Douglas and Miner sts.

Residents of Arlington Heights are invited to be guests of Merle Guild Post at this evening of fun, which will begin at 8:30 o'clock. No charge of any kind will be made and refreshments will be served. Several special attractions are also planned to entertain the guests.

Insurance Executive Will Be Speaker At 'University of Life'

Herbert F. Walton, vice president of the All State Insurance company has accepted an invitation to participate in the "University of Life" program slated to begin at the First Presbyterian church of Arlington Heights October 10.

Walton, who is also vice president of the Greater Chicago Churchmen, will lead a discussion in the course entitled, "A Philosophy of Life," open to adult registrants. He will speak October 17 on "Home and Business."

Co-chairmen Charles Tully and Stuart C. Saul have also just announced that they have secured three films to be presented in several of the "University of Life" courses. "The Creation According to Genesis," will be shown October 10 to high school registrants in a course dealing with science and religion. In this film, the story of the creation is presented in a poetic interpretation by the use of color film, unusual camera effects, time-lapse photography and skilled editing.

October 17, a film entitled "My Bother," will be shown to high school enrollees in a course dealing with Christian everyday living. Produced by the Lutheran church, this film depicts an episode in the life of a family as they encounter, and eventually resolve, a problem in racial prejudice.

The third film, a Moody Institute of Science release called "Dust or Destiny" will be presented to both adult and high school students in the science and religion course. Through the use of unusual color photographic techniques, this film is designed to create wonder and awe concerning the earth and carries the message that a divine presence must exist to create and maintain harmony of the universe.

This marks the first time a "University of Life" program has been introduced in the Northwest suburbs, although similar programs have proved increasingly popular in all parts of the country.

Mr. Tully and Rev. Saul have emphasized that this program is open to anyone in the community, from junior high through the adult level. Those interested are urged to call the church office for further details as to time and place of registration.

The program will take place over a five Sunday period, beginning October 10 and ending November 7 with a discussion of the activities and accomplishments of the recently-concluded session of the World Council of Churches at Evanston.

African Violet Club To Meet October 6

Second meeting of Saintpaulia African violet club will be held at the home of Mrs. Hugo Thal, 102 W. Euclid ave., next Wednesday at 9:30 a.m.

The annual program will be discussed and Mrs. Thal will explain her plants and method of growing them. (AMP

With The Blue Birds

Arlington Heights Blue Birds from Mrs. Paul Crommelin's and Mrs. Louis M. Schomburg's group participated in the annual father-daughter cookout in Deer Grove Saturday. This was the first event the new blue birds were able to share with their dads.

Girls explored trails and gathered firewood along the way for their camp fires. Nearly 150 Blue Birds, Camp Fire Girls and their dads enjoyed the early evening hours cooking hamburgers and hot dogs over the fires.

Melvin Meyer Wins First In Land Judging Contest

Melvin Meyer, senior at Arlington Heights high school, won first place in the Future Farmers of America, Section 6, land judging contest at Capron, Ill., September 23.

The local team, consisting of Meyer, Don Schroeder, and Pete Theobald, placed second among 15 schools entered. Seventy-five boys competed in the contest, which Joe E. Bryson, faculty advisor, describes as the most technical of all the FFA judging contests.

Section 6 includes 15 FFA chapters located north of Arlington Heights as far as the state line and west to Belvidere.

Dessert Luncheon To Open Season For Arlington DAR Members

Eli Skinner chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution will hold its first meeting of the fall season October 7 at the home of Mrs. Daniel W. Vittum, 423 Beverley lane, Arlington Heights. Dessert luncheon will be served at 1:30 p.m. Assisting the hostess will be Mrs. Mark Cleaver, Mrs. Harold Rose and Mrs. Henry Winterbauer. This is a guest meeting.

Mrs. William Wood, Elmhurst will speak on "National Defense." Formerly state chairman of national defense, Mrs. Wood is well known among Illinois chapters. Her talk will be of special interest due to her recent European trip.

A luncheon for Mrs. Wood at the Tally Ho tea room, Park Ridge, will precede the meeting. Members who wish to make luncheon reservations may contact Mrs. M. W. Grigsby, chapter regent.

Adopt Traffic Plan for Pupils to Promote Safety

ADOPT TRAFIC PLAN LUD

In order to make efficient use of the space in the student parking lot and to promote safety on the streets near the school, the Student Council of Arlington Heights high school was adopted a traffic plan for students.

JACK JOHNSTON, Student Council president, along with Bill Beckman, faculty sponsor, Mickey Harris, Cheryl Sparling, Don Gaul and Jim Spaulding drew up the traffic plan which involves a code of ethics for driving conduct.

A few highlights of the code are that any student driving a vehicle to school must have a valid driver's license and his parent's permission. Any vehicle brought to school must meet the Illinois State requirements for safety. Pupils should drive cars at a normal speed and not hot-rod.

The plan includes a court to hear all cases of charged violations. The court consists of one chief justice, four associate judges, two prosecuting attorneys, two court clerks, and one faculty sponsor.

THE CHIEF justice shall be elected from the junior class by the student body and the associate judges will be elected from each of the four classes. The prosecuting attorney is to be selected by the five judges; one from the junior class and one from the senior class. This year the chief justice is to be appointed by the Student Council president, the associate judges will be elected in special elections.

The monitoring of the parking lot will be under the supervision of the A club.

The Student Council expresses its hope that it will receive the plan. This will make it possible full co-operation of the student body in carrying out the traffic to have a student-run and not faculty-run parking lot.

Arlington Terrace News

Pinch-hitter for Mickey Hofer, regular Arlington Terrace columnist, is Mrs. Oscar Holmgren, 838 N. Hickory. News items may be phoned to her at CL. 3-4028. Mrs. Hofer, who is recuperating from polio, is able to sit up a few hours each day.

The Arlington Property Owner's officers meet Friday at the home of President Oscar Holmgren. Persons who have not sent in their membership card with check for 1954 dues are urged to do so this week.

The Fred C. Dufelmeier family at 837 N. Hickory, are star members of the Methodist church. Mrs. Dufelmeier has been assisting the quilt committee of the antique and hobby show and was in charge of the rally day program at the church. The entire family were awarded "perfect attendance" pins. Francis and Fred got perfect attendance, Becky and Bruce received their second years pins, and Tim his one year pin.

Mrs. Robert C. Carter, 1002 N. Beverley, who has been convalescing from illness, was surprised with a birthday party recently by Mrs. Howard Butcher, 921 N. Beverly Lane, Mrs. George Fillebrown, 901 N. Beverly Lane, and Mrs. Robert Weber, 910 N. Beverly Lane. The ladies came walking into the Carter home singing "Happy Birthday" and carrying a lighted cake.

A vacation trip to Lake Fortune, Ontario, and Buffalo, N. Y., was enjoyed by Mr. and Mrs. Edward C. Wiegand, 909 N. Beverly Lane. They were accompanied on their recent trip by the Senior Edward C. Wiegands and daughter Susan Jane. The senior Wiegands stayed with Susan Jane in Buffalo while the junior Wiegands and Mr. and Mrs. Albert Kirchgessner of Buffalo, aunt and uncle of the junior Wiegands, went on a fishing trip in Canada.

Tickets for the Fall dance of the mother club of St. James Catholic Women's guild may be purchased from Mrs. George Cole, 909 N. Douglas. The dance, slated for Oct. 23 at Sportman's Country club in Northbrook, will start at 9 p.m. and feature the music of Claude Johnson and his orchestra.

Commander Robert W. Carter, 1002 N. Bevely Lane, is once again active with the Naval Reserve unit in Evanston.

"Welcome" to new residents Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Herr, 845 N. Hickory, and to their son, Raymond Jr., age 8. Raymond attends second grade at St. James school. Mr. Herr is the brother of Jacob C. Herr, 901 N. Douglas. They are living in the home formerly owned by Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. Jensen.

Recuperating quickly from a recent illness is Arthur H. Davis, 906 N. Beverly Lane, and he expects to be back at his desk at Harris Trust company soon.

Bicycle riding, horseback riding, and ferry trips were among the vacation treats afford Mr. and Mrs. Frank Devita, 811 Frederick ave., who returned Sept. 26 from the Grand hotel at Mackinac Island, Mich. Mrs. Devita's mother, Mrs. Josephine Gilbert, assumed household duties and care of the children while the parents were gone.

It was a happier birthday Sept. 25 for Judy Johns, 8, of 1017 N. Douglas, who had returned just 2 days earlier from St. Joseph's hospital, Elgin, where she had been confined since stricken with polio. Six neighborhood children, including Karen Herr, Susie Quill, Naomi Camon, Vickey Cole, Barbara Johnson and Janice Sitarz, were entertained at the party. Janice had just returned from Evanston hospital and is also recuperating from polio.

Judy goes to St. Joseph's every day for therapy treatments. She is receiving bedside teaching from Mrs. Harris to keep her up to date in school work. Judy expressed her thanks this week for the 250 cards she received while in the hospital.

Marcia Jean Hausler Weds Herbert Slottag

Bak Photo.

With nine attendants preceding her down the white-carpeted aisle, Miss Marcia Jean Hausler, daughter of Mrs. Alice Hausler, Mount Prospect, became the bride of Herbert Slottag, son of Mr. and Mrs. William J. Slottag, Arlington Heights, September 11 at St. Raymond Catholic church. Fr. Hartnet officiated at the 11 a. m. double ring ceremony amid a setting of white carnations.

Given in marriage by her great uncle, Leonard Schultz, Chicago, the bride wore a white satin ballerina length gown and a satin beaded cap held her borrowed veil in place. White roses made up her bridal bouquet.

Miss Dawn Ellingsworth, Chicago, served as maid of honor to the bride wearing a ballerina length satin and net grey-blue gown. Bridesmaids were Miss Delores Comer and Miss Charlene Sorenson, Mount Prospect, Miss Winnie Boyacik and Miss Ann Hoppe, Chicago and Miss Millie Lukasik and Miss Derry Arnold, Arlington Heights. They wore ballerina length satin and net gowns fashioned identically to the maid of honor's gown. Three were in pale pink and three in an aqua shade. All the attendants carried ballerina bouquets of red roses.

The groom's 5-year-old niece, Patsy Cummings, Palatine, served as flower girl wearing a gown of yellow net. She carried a basket of roses. Seven year old Tony Felkner, Roselle, nephew of the groom, served as ring bearer.

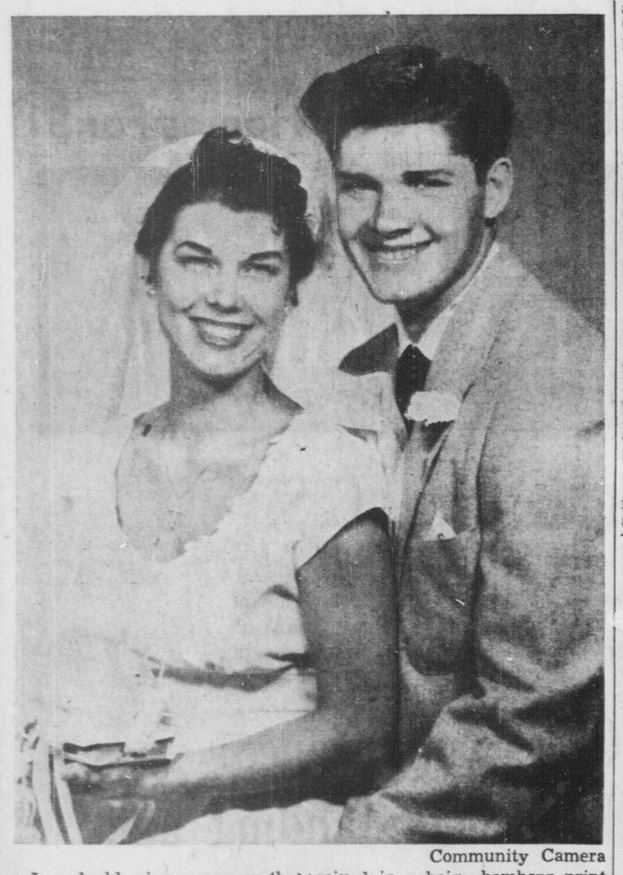
For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Hausler wore an off the shoulder beaded grey shantung dress while the groom's mother was in a pale blue net and satin dress. Both mothers wore white orchid corsages.

Robert Slottag served as his broher's best man and ushers were Harold Slottag, also a brother of the groom, Matt De Piero, George Hejl, Kenneth Mueller, Herb Van Driel and Bill Ryan, all from Arlington Heights and Mount Prospect.

Luncheon was served to close friends and the immediate families at St. Mary's hall, Buffalo Grove, following the ceremony, and a buffet dinner at 10 p. m. was served to 500 guests.

Mr. Slottag and his bride honeymooned at the Wisconsin Dells and are now residing at 1256 N. Chestnut, Arlington Heights high school. The groom is associated with his father in the upholstery business.

Gladys Baker Becomes Mrs. Robert Bourseau



Community Camera

In a double ring ceremony that took place in her parents' garden September 4, at three o'clock, Miss Gladys Baker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Melvin E. Baker, Arlington Heights and Robert Bourseau, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond J. Bourseau, Palatine, repeated their marriage vows before Judge Carl M. Behrens.

Assorted gladioli and white bells decorated the garden for the ceremony.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore an egg shell white faille gown fashioned princess style with heart-shaped neckline with apple blossom applique set with seed pearls. The bride wore her mother's finger tip veil held in place with a juliet cap of faille to match her gown. A white orchid and pom pons were mounted on a white Bible for her bridal bouquet.

Mrs. Joe Jingle Jr., Arlington Heights, served as the bride's only attendant wearing a blue grey gown fashioned princess style. She carried a bouquet of red rose buds. Robert Sullivan, Arlington Heights, served as the groom's best man.

The reception for 150 guests was held immediately following the ceremony. Mrs. Baker received in a beige bemberg print with white accessories and a corsage of peach gladioli. The groom's mother wore a silver grey suit, red accessories and a corsage of peach gladioli.

Mr. Bourseau and his bride are now residing in their own apartment on S. Vail ave. and are planning a belated wedding trip to Lake of the Ozarks.

Former Arlington Mayor Celebrates Golden Wedding

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Flentie, former residents of Arlington Heights, celebrated their golden wedding September 26 with an open house at their home in Pasadena, Cal. They left Arlington Heights in 1946.

Files of Paddock Publications read that Julius Flentie of Arlington Heights and Miss Louise Graue, of Hinsdale, were married Sunday evening, September 15, 1904 at Hinsdale Lutheran church. Three children were born to them, two of whom, Mrs. G. H. Wilke and Dr. E. H. Flentie, both of Pasadena, celebrated with their parents. Other descendants are five grandchildren and one great-grandchild. Mr. Flentie was born in 1881 and Mrs. Flentie in 1883.

A telegram was sent to Mr. and Mrs. Flentie, signed by 18 of their Arlington Heights friends, reading as follows:

September 24, 1954
Mr. and Mrs. Julius D. Flentie
1385 Michigan
Pasadena, California

"Your old time friends of Arlington Heights congratulate you on your fiftieth wedding anniversary. We know that surrounded by your children and grandchildren it will be a happy occasion.

"You deserve the easy life away from snow, ice and village politics, but we hope you have not forgotten those years of yesterday when we were all laboring together for the welfare of the City of Good Neighbors. You had an important part in building the foundations of Arlington Heights. Your service to the community at a time when its destiny was being shaped has left the name of Flentie upon the annals of Arlington.

George Schneberger, Walter Krause, Albert Goedke Charles Klehm, William F. Meyer Jr., Stuart R. Paddock, Henry Hagenbring.

Miss Ilse Wolf Becomes Bride Of Ronald Kopala

Now residing in South Bend are Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Kopala who were married September 11 in a 9 o'clock ceremony in St. Stanislaus Kostka Catholic church, New Carlisle, Ind. The bride is the former Ilse Wolf, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Gumprecht, Palatine, and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Walter W. Kopala, New Carlisle, Ind.

White gladioli decorated the altar of the church and Fr. John Wroblewski officiated at the double ring ceremony.

Given in marriage by her uncle, Richard Gumprecht, the bride wore a white satin gown with fitted bodice, short sleeves and a neckline trimmed with sequins and pearls. Her headpiece was also trimmed with sequins and pearls and held her fingertip veil of imported illusion. She carried a bouquet of feathered white carnations with detachable corsage

Miss Dolores Kopala, sister of the groom, served as the bride's only attendant wearing a pale green strapless gown with tulle jacket. She carried a colonial bouquet of yellow mums and wore a headpiece of the same flowers.

Best man to the groom was James P. Swords of South Bend.

Following the ceremony, a wedding breakfast for the immediate families and close friends was held at Alby's steak house, South Bend. A reception for 35 guests was held at the home of the groom's parents. Mrs. Gumprecht received in a 2-piece turquoise afternoon dress with brown accessories. Mrs. Kopala wore a princess style grey dress with black accessories. Both Mrs. Gumprecht and Mrs. Kopala wore corsages of pink roses.

The newlyweds honeymooned at Niagara Falls and are residing at 605 S. Olive st., South Bend.

Betty Jane Stone Weds Edwin H. Stade Jr.

Miss Betty Jane Stone and Edwin H. Stade Jr. repeated wedding vows after Rev. K. V. Grotheer, pastor, St. Luke's Lutheran church, Itasca, in a ceremony performed at 4 o'clock August 14 at Bethel Lutheran church, Chicago. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Eric W. Stone, Chicago, and the groom is the son of the Senior Edwin Stades, Bartlett.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a ballerina length gown of white lace over satin, with jacket. Her fingertip veil fell from a rhinestone crown and she carried a white orchid fastened to a white Bible.

Mrs. Shirley Ackerley was her sister's matron of honor. She wore a street length dress of blue nylon with a waist corsage of salmon gladiolus.

Best man to the groom was Erwin D. Volkner, brother-in-law of the groom.

The bride's mother wore a white print dress with black accessories and a corsage of red roses. The groom's mother chose a navy blue dress to which she pinned a corsage of red roses.

Following the ceremony, a reception was held for the immediate family. The newlyweds honeymooned in Wisconsin, Minnesota and Canada. The young couple will reside at 1544 N. Springfield, Chicago.

Virginia Peuckert Is Bride Of J. R. Williamson

A wedding in which Miss Virginia Peuckert, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Otto Peuckert, Northbrook, and J. Robert Williamson, Kentucky, were united in marriage took place at St. Norbert's church September 18.

The altar was decorated with white gladioli and tall tapers. Rev. Hugh O'Reilly officiated at the nuptial mass.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of cream colored taffeta with a long veil. She carried a white prayer book with a white orchid and stephanotis

Miss Vivian Peuckert, Glencoe, served as her cousin's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Mrs. Marlyn Lee, Oak Park, and Mrs. Darlene Ilg, Morton Grove. All wore gowns of coral taffeta and halo hats trimmed with garnette roses. They carried bouquets of pink carnations.

Best man to the groom was John Reiters and Charles Livers and Richard Peuckert, brother of the bride, served as ushers.

Following the ceremony, a breakfast was held at the "Huddle," Glenview, for 24 guests. A reception for 200 guests was held at the Masonic hall, Glencoe. Out-of-town guests included Mr. and Mrs. Merlyn Ickleman, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Carls, Floyd Potter, Mr. and Mrs. San Hanson, all from Illinois, Dr. and Mrs. Van Becelarie, Detroit and Mr. and Mrs. John Bell and Mrs. Catherine Hicks, New Hope, Ky.

Jacquelyn Luehring Is Bride Of John Hayden

Bouquets of white carnations decorated St. James Catholic church September 4 for the marraige of Miss Jacquelyn Luehring, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William W. Luehring, Arlington Heights, to John Hayden, son of Mrs. Clare Hayden, Arlington Heights. Rev. R. Reicher officiated at the 10 o'clock nuptial high mass during which "Ave Maria" and "On This Day" were snug.

Escorted down the aisle by her father, the bride wore a white satin gown with lace bodice and lace panels on the train. Her juliet cap trimmed with seed pearls, held her fingertip veil in place and she carried a white orchid bordered with white fugi mums and ivy.

Mrs. Frank Pustaver, Arlington Heights, served as matron of honor to the bride and bridesmaids were Miss Judi Luehring, sister of the bride and Mrs. Kenneth Yost, Park Ridge. All attendants wore identical gowns of turquoise net over taffeta with velvet trim. They carried beige fuji mum bouquets.

For her daughter's wedding, Mrs. Luehring wore an aqua pure silk over taffeta gown fashioned with a boat neckline and full skirt. She wore brown velvet accessories and a corsage of bronze mums. Mrs. Hayden wore a white crocheted silk ribbon dress with gold accessories and a corsage of gold mums.

Best man to the groom was James Hayden, brother of the groom and Frank Pustaver and John Randag Jr., both of Arlington Heights, served as ushers.

Wedding breakfast was served to 50 relatives and close friends at Paul Peterson's Supper club, Palatine. Two hundred fifty guests attended the evening reception at Hartman house, Wheeling.

After a honeymoon at Lake of the Ozarks, the newlyweds are residing at 220 N. Dwyer, Arlington Heights. Both Mr. Hayden and his bride are graduates of Arlington Heights Township high school. The new Mrs. Hayden is employed by Chicago North Western railroad and the groom by Burrough's Office Machine company, Chicago.

Marion Zuelsdorf And Howard Richards Wed

Bak Photo

St. John Evangelical Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, was the scene of a double ring ceremony September 11 in which Miss Marion Zuelsdorf, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Albert Zuelsdorf, Palatine, and Howard Richards Jr., Arlington Heights, were united in marriage. The groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. Richards, former Arlington Heights residents, now residing in Lake Zurich.

Rev. Gerhard Meiners officiated at the 7:30 o'clock candlelight ceremony amid a setting of gladioli and large white pompons. Mrs. Florence Shelley, soloist, sang, "Because," "Ave Maria" and "The Lord's Prayer."

Entering the church with her uncle, Lester Blezik, Palatine, the bride wore a gown of nylon net and lace over taffeta fashioned with net yoke, lace collar and a full skirt ending in a train. Her fingertip veil was of net edged with lace and held to her head with a crown of seed pearls. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white roses with an orchid center.

Miss Jo Ann Swanson, Palatine, served as the bride's maid of honor. She wore a gown of orchid nylon net fashioned with a sweetheart neckline and full skirt. She wore a matching sweetheart hat and carried yellow roses in a heart-shaped bouguet. Bridesmaids were Mrs. Michael Yaworski, sister of the groom, and Miss Arlene Hardy, Palatine, who wore green nylon net and lace gowns. They carried heart-shaped bouquets of pink roses.

Six-year-old Ruth Zelsdorf, cousin of the bride, served as flower girl, wearing a gown of baby blue nylon net. She carried a white basket of red roses. Billy Zelsdorf, 5 years old, also a cousin of the bride, served as ring bearer. The bride's mother chose a lilac crepe gown and an orchid corsage. The groom's mother wore a powder blue chiffon and lace gown. Her corsage was of white carnations.

Best man to the groom was Kenneth C. Krueger, Arlington Heights, and ushers were Robert E. Dahlstream and George Mailfold, both of Arlington Heights.

Palatine Legion hall was the scene of the reception where 500 guests congratulated the bride and groom. The couple is now residing at 7 W. Cambell ave. after a week's wedding trip to the Wisconsin Dells. The bride is employed by Grigsby Allison company, Arlington Heights, and the groom is employed by Howard Johnson restaurant, Des Plaines.

Charles Ballings Mark Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Balling, Wheeling, marked their golden wedding anniversary September 21.

The Ballings were marred in Wheeling Presbyterian church, whose pastor at that time was Rev. Oltman B. Oltmans.

Mrs. Balling, now 73 years old, who was then Minnie Welflin, was at that time living in Wheeling at the location of the Amvets club house, where she was born, while Mr. Balling, who will soon be 83, was born in Chicago and was a salesman for a shirt and collar firm. He carried out his courtship with a tandem bicycle, says Mrs. Balling, with which he drove to Wheeling, and was an added attraction to bring about the wedding 50 years ago.

In 1915, the couple purchased the old Welflin homestead and Mr. Balling, who was then assistant manager in the firm where he was employed, set himself up in the poultry and egg business, in which he had always been interested, in Wheeling on the east side of the river on Dundee road.

In 1939, when the county forest preserve bought their property, the house was moved into the village, was remodelled and is now occupied by their son, Charles, and his family. A new place of business with living quarters was built, where Mr. and Mrs. Balling and their son, Marshall, are now living and where Mr. Balling, with the help of their son, is still actively operating the business.

Always interested in the church, Mrs. Balling has had a very active part in the Ladies Aid society of Wheeling Community Presbyterian church and her name is still always seen as a chairman or committee member of the various activities of the group. Although she is known as a quit and unassuming type of person, Mrs Balling has always given generously of her time and help in the church and its affairs.

Mr. Balling served several terms on the Wheeling school board in the 1920's and was instrumental in relocating the school from Dundee Rd. across from the church, to its present site. His son, Charles, is now a member of the school board.

He helped found the Wheeling State bank in 1921 and has served on its board as director, vice president and is now chairman of the board. He is also one of the oldest members of the Wheeling Chamber of Commerce.

In celebration of the anniversary, their children, Mrs. Louis Flentge, Springfield, Mo., their daughter, and her family, and their two sons, Marshall and Charles and his family, held an open house September 26 from 4 to 8 p.m. at Wheeling Presbyterian Community church, to which all of their relatives, neighbors and friends were invited.

Members of the original wedding party at this celebration were Mr. Balling's sister, Miss Bertha Koch, Chicago, who was maid of honor, three cousins from Chicago and two cousins from California.

Republican Women To Hold Tea in Barrington

Republican Woman's club of Barrington township will hold a tea at 1:30 p. m. October 5 at Barrington Methodist church. Purpose of the tea is for all women in Arlington Heights, Palatine, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Wheeling to meet all Republican candidates on state and county tickets.

Proposed Professional Building which could be the beginning of a medical center for Arlington Heights. Its construction awaits the approval of the village board before whom there is a re-zoning petition. The zoning board of appeals has recommended its rejection. The east side of State road is zoned for business as far south as Park street, at the southwest corner of which it is proposed to erect the professional building. The claim is made that Arlington Heights, a town of 14,000 is the only community of its size throughout this area that does not have such a building. Plans for a similar building, made a year ago to be located on E. Miner st., were abandoned by the property owner, owing to the lack of interest shown by existing Arlington Heights professional men.

graduation from high school, he became a columnist and play reviewer on the Sioux Falls Press, while attending Sioux Falls college. He then attended Northwestern university, working his way through school at various jobs.

In 1943 he joined the staff of the Chicago Trubne, and received his master's degree at Northwestern. He has since taught journalism at Northwestern and become assistant Sunday editor for the Chicago Tribune.

Hospitality chairman, Mrs. W. G. Inman, will have Mrs. G. W. Sullivan and Mrs. Frank Kroll as tea hostess.

Both Miss Payne and Lieutenant Kopp will receive their bachelor degrees in June, 1955, at the Springfield, O., school where they met. Lt. Kopp finished his work for his degree during the past summer. He is now stationed at Presque Isle, Me., awaiting orders to overseas duty.

He was accepted by the air force for cadet training while he was a student at Wittenberg, then re-assigned there after basic training. He is a member of Lambda Chi Alpha fraternity.

The wedding will take place the late summer or early fall of 1955 when Lieutenant Kopp is expected to return from overseas assignment.

Favorites For Flavor

It's hard to beat the savory flavor of Pizza, especially when it is baked in your own kitchen!

Today we have an excellent recipe for this tempting Italian dish which has been concocted by Mrs. Edwin H. Larson of 733 S. Highland, Arlington Heights.

Mrs. Larson had several recipes for Pizza, none of which completely suited her, and so she experimented, made revisions and additions until she perfected the one featured in this column.

This delicious Pizza has four component parts: dough, tomato sauce, sausage and cheese.

The dough is made using a packaged hot roll mix. It is rolled out thin, placed on a cookie sheet and with thin slices of Scamorze cheese. The cheese, in turn, is covered by a tomato sauce and then the Pizza is dotted with pork sausage and sprinkled generously with Parmesan cheese.

It is baked for 20 minutes, served immediately and my! what good eating! Making this Pizza involves some time and effort, but you'll find that the results more than justify the work involved.

The good cook who is sharing this recipe with us is the busy mother of two children, Dick, 6½ and Carol, who is almost three. Mrs. Larson is room mother for a first grade at the South school, and both she and her husband are taking a course in bridge at the adult evening school.

Pizza

Dough:

1 package prepared hot roll mix
2 teaspoons oil

Follow directions on package for yeast mix. Then add small amount flor, mix well, and oil. Then add remaining flour and continue as directed.

Sauce:

1 tablespoon oil
1 small onion, chopped fine
1 medium can tomatoes
2 cans tomato paste
½ teaspoon oregano
¼ teaspoon garlic salt
½ teaspoon salt
¼ teaspoon sugar

Saute onion in oil. Add remaining ingredients. Simmer over low flame in covered pan for one-half hour. Cool and strain.

Sausage:

1½ pounds lean pork, ground
1 teaspoon oregano, crushed
¼ teaspoon pepper
1 teaspoon salt
⅛ teaspoon garlic salt

Mix the ingredients together and let stand.

Method:

Divide risen dough into three parts. Roll as thin as possible and stretch with hands.

Place on cookie sheet which has been greased and sprinkled lightly with corn meal. Brush dough lightly with oil Cover with thin slices of Scamorze cheese.

Spread tomato sauce over cheese, dot with pork sausage and sprinkle generously with Parmesan cheese.

Bake for 20 minutes in 450 degree oven. Makes three Pizzas. Serves 8 to 10.

Baby Shot In Forehead By Stray BB Missile

An 18-months-old Elmhurst boy was shot in the forehead by a B-B gun last week in a freak accident.

The boy Donald Carrol, son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Carrol, 429 Fairview av., was in the basement with his mother, when the shot pierced the window screen, passed next to Mrs. Carrol, and struck Donald.

The person who shot the gun could not be located.

News of Rolling Meadows

HELENE BRISTOL, Editor — 2104 South Street — CLearbrook 3-8125

Rolling Meadows Womens Club

Are you interested in becoming a member of the Rolling Meadows Womens' club or the Rolling Meadows Junior Womens' club? Federated Womens' clubs are organized and affiliated with the Illinois and National Federation of Women's clubs and there are over 11 million women, such as the women of Rolling Meadows, who belong to these organizations in the United States. As you know, greater things can be accomplished both locally and nationally by working together. The object of a federated club is for the promotion of community service, friendship, social activity, and philanthropy.

The Junior Women's club in the 7th District is the organization sponsoring the dance Friday night October 1, at the Medina Country club for the benefit of the Wheeling braille classroom. The women of Rolling Meadows can accomplish much for this area by belonging to such an organization.

A meeting will be held next Tuesday, at 8 p.m., at the home of Mrs. Lester Traub, 2902 Dove st., for all women interested in becoming a part of such a fine organization. If you are interested but are not able to attend this meeting, call Mrs. Traub at Clearbrook 3-6462.

Blood Donor List

Last week this column printed an article asking all interested persons who were willing to give blood and who wished their names to appear on a special list of blood donors to call Don Dahlquist at Clearbrook 3-0889 Perhaps you misunderstood the use of such a list of names, as Don only received one reply. This list is to be used when a member of your family is in need of a pint or more of blood. As you know, when blood is taken from a hospital blood bank supply it has to be replenished within a certain period of time or the family of the person needing the blood is charger for it. So if a list of blood donors is established in this community, it will be an easy matter to replenish the blood supply and thereby save the family considerable expense. All you Meadowites who wish to aid in completing this special list, please phone Don your name, address, and blood type, if it is known. Thanks so much, we hope to hear from a larger number of you this week.

Bake Sale

The kindergarten mothers met Tuesday night to discuss a bake sale which they are holding Friday at the corner house on Campbell st. and Meadow drive, from 7:30 to 10 p.m. The proceeds of this bake sale will be used in the purchasing of necessary educational toys and equipment for the children to keep their little minds and hands busy. The children now attending kindergarten and those planning to attend in the near future will benefit greatly from the items to be purchased.

Boy Scouts

Last week the Boy Scouts of Troop 69 in Palatine had a parents' night. Those parents attending from Rolling Meadows included Mr. and Mrs. Peter Keller, Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Nottke, Mr. and Mrs. William Klouthis, and Mr. and Mrs. Stetzer. A movie all about the Philmont Boy Scout Ranch in New Mexico was shown. All Boy Scouts who are 2nd class Scouts and have earned a portion of their keep will be able to attend this ranch. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting.

Glenn Loveless has been appointed as secretary of the troop committee, and Pete Keller is chairman of publicty and parent contacts, as well as merit badge counselor. Both of the above gentlemen have also been appointed assistant Scout Masters.

The Boy Scouts are planning a paper drive starting October 30, the purpose of which is to put more money into their treasury. So save your old newspapers, magazines, or anything of that nature. It will be announced later just what date your papers will be picked up, so watch this column.

Troop 69 is still open for applicants to the troop. Any boys 11 years and older who are interested in scouting should contact Pete Keller, 2903 Wilke rd., CLearbrook 3-2840. You might be interested in knowing that 11 boys from Rolling Meadows are now members of the Panther Patrol, Troop 69 of Palatine.

Registered Nurses Club

The Registered Nurses Club of Palatine wishes to extend to any registered nurse in Rolling Meadows an invitation to join that organization. The organization is composed of active and inactive registered nurses who use their talents to aid the community. No active duty is required. Programs dealing with the nursing profession as well as social activities have been planned for the coming year. They would like to meet you. Please call Mrs. Thurman Sipp, president, Palatine 1340, for further details.

The main project of the Nurses club is the lending closet which has been built up through donations of equipment. New equipment is added as the community seems to need it. The lending closet contains a supply of hospital equipment such as a hosptal bed, bed pans, back rest, urinals, crutches, canes, steam inhalators, commode, rubber rings, breast pumps, wheel chairs, foot or leg cradles, baby scales, and other miscellaneous items, all of which are available free of charge to residents of the community for home use. The equipment may be obtained by calling Mrs. Frank Nuehlfelt, Palatine 143-J.

Due to the loss of the Palatine school nurse, the Nurses club will endeavor to carry on the eye tests and woodlamp test for ringworm, in addition to promoting eye and dental care for children in school whose parents are unable to do so. This will be done in connection with the school health program.

The first meeting this fall was held September 13 at the fire house. The husbands were guests at a pot-luck supper. The next meeting will be held October at the fire house. Dr. Edward A. Piszczek will speak on community health education.

Block Party

The Dove st. block party held in the Carrozza garage last Saturday evening was a huge success. All the neighbors met for an evening of relaxation and a wonderful time was had by all.

Ill

Little Miss Pamela Maszk, aged 2, was rushed to St. Joseph hospital, Elgin, last Monday afternoon with virus pneumonia. She is expected to be in the hospital for a few days. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Hilary Maszk, of 2306 Wing st.

Birthday Celebrations

Carol Sorenson, 2311 Meadow drive, was 8 years old September 14. She is the young daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Sorenson of the same address. Several children from the neighborhood attending her party were Ellen and Phillip Gruenbaum and Pamela Scheidler.

Another birthday was celebrated on Meadow drive. Pamela Scheidler of 2309 Meadow drive was 3 years old on August 29. Several of her little friends attended bringing her nice gifts.

The sixth birthday party of Randall Wilkans, 2608 South st., went off like clock work, or so you might say. Randy was thrilled over the Roy Rogers wristwatch which his 11 year old brother gave him. Many other nice gifts were also presented to him by his little friends and relatives.

Art Barber, 2505 Fremont, one of our newest Rolling Meadowites, celebrated his birthday with friends and relatives and was presented with many useful house accessories, which consisted of a mail box, house numbers, etc.

Frankie Braiske, 2310 Fremont, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Braiske, celebrated his 6th birthday with a party for the children of his new neighborhood. Those attending were Michael Hughes, Howard Searcy, Richard and Raymond Zogrophos, Kathy, Ronny and Jimmy Decker, and Pamela, Jan and Judy Boehlke. Last Sunday was relations day at another party for Frankie. The Braiske children also wish to thank J. G. "Bordon" Walker for his participation in making the party such a success.

Home Demonstration

A jewelry home demonstration party was held last week at the home of Loretta Stapleton, 2312 Wing st. Those women attending the party included Barbara Fackler, Mary Estrella, Flor Nyblin, Myrna Novak, Shirley Jaaski, Marge Baumgard, Mickey Mazenet, and Evelyn Mahoney. The demonstration and refreshments were enjoyed by all.

Yachting

Mr. and Mrs. Pete Keller of Wilke rd. and Mr. and Mrs. George Kitterman, South street, spent a leisurely Sunday aboard a 31 foot cabin cruiser, cruising around the lake. After dropping anchor at 31st street and enjoying a delicious dinner, they again got under way.

Food Sale

All donations for the food sale to be held by the Rolling Meadows Community church October 16 should be brought to the church on Meadow Drive about 11 the day of the sale. These donations should include homemade jellies and preserves, canned fruits and vegetables, home canned pickles, baked beans, pies, cakes, homemade breads, etc. The above list provides quite a variety for you to choose from in completing our shopping for that ween end. So, give the ladies your business and help them make this food sale a huge success.

Vacation

The vacationing Bristols, Bob and Helene, of 2104 South, have returned to their home after touring a large portion of the good old U.S.A. A wonderful time was had by visiting friends and relatives from Chicago to Albany, New York. Welcome bak.

Wanna Buy a Duck?

The above phrase cannot be accomplished since Donald, the pet duck of Mr. and Mrs. Steve Bialo, 2101 Eastman, was taken to the Hawthorne Melody Farm last week where he could waddle and quack with all his friends. Donald was the pet of the neighborhood children and they all miss him very much, but they also know Donald will be given the best of care and not become the main course on someone's table.

Graduated

Jill Cartright has just graduated from nurses training and is now a visiting nurse. Jill lives at 2401 Meadow Drive.

Andy Anderson, manager of Hill-Behan's new Arlington Heights store, watches Stuart R. Paddock draw a winning ticket in the company's door prize drawing, part of the grand opening last week-end. Winner of the Pincor power mower was Vaneta Kellogg, 1341 N. Wilke rd., Arlington Heights, and winners of lawn chairs were R. A. Bertacti, 700 Bristol Lane and M. R. Bramwell, 710 S. Vail, both Arlington Heights; Henry F. Reese, 30 N. Ashland, Palatine; and Mrs. B. Johanson, Lawford Lane, Prospect Heights. About 2,000 balloons were given children, and 1,000 painters caps and yard sticks presented to men. —Staff Photo.

Birth News

A baby boy named Keith Robert, was born August 21 to Robert and Hldegarde Michaels of 2407 Eastman ave. The Michaels have one other child.

House Warming

Mr. and Mrs. William Tully, 2412 Fremont st., had a housewarming last Sunday, October 26. Father Corcoran of Our Lady of Sorrows church in Chicago, who is a good friend of the Tully's, blessed their home. Guests included Mr. and Mrs. James Henaghan, Mrs. Mary Tully, Mr. and Mrs. John Tully and children, Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Tully and children, Mr. and Mrs. Albert Hilliard and children, Bob Tully, Miss Mary Tully, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Corcoran, and Father Corcoran's mother, all of Chicago; Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Kowal and children, and Harry Gubbins of Arlington Heights; and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Thomas and children of Bellwood.

Another housewarming was held at the home of Fred and Evelyn Jespersen, of Meadow Drive, September 19. This house really had a warming as 62 people were on hand during the day for refreshments and a general get together.

Regular Reporter

For the past three weeks I enjoyed writing the news of Rolling Meadows while your regular reporter and her husband enjoyed their annual vacation. I want to thank you for all the bits of news you phoned me and also the enjoyable conversations we had. For news you may have after this week please phone Helene, Clearbrook 3-8125.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Jevne were Sunday visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. James Jevne in Villa Park (a brother of Charles Jevne.)

All Finished

The paint up and clean up campaign committee have done an excellent job in painting the basement of the Forest View school. It has been done in white and the radiators, posts, beams and frame work around the windows have been done in fire hydrant red. The two colors look very well together and it only has to be seen to be appreciated. What an improvement it has made including the new lights, in the once dark and dreary room. Many wonderful compliments have been made, which makes the committee very proud of their work and a job well done. Many thanks to all who took part in this rejuvenation, especially to Kenneth Hartman for getting such a good buy on the paint used, also to Mr. Walerius and Mr. Burton for their help too.

Square Dancers Attention!

The Square Dancers will hold their dance this Friday, at 8:30 p.m. instead of 8 p.m., at the Forest View school on S. State road near Algonquin rd. Don Finfrock is our caller. The refreshment servers will be Mrs. Helen Prasnikar, Mrs. Lorraine Schultz and Mrs. Rosemary Schaefer. We welcome guest couples and are accepting more couples who wish to join our group as steady members. Contact Mrs. Marty Sundblad at Clearbrook 3-2821 if you'd like to join.

Mothers Meeting

The Forest View Mother's club will hold its regular monthly meeting Tuesday, at 8 p.m. at the school. We are hoping for a 100 per cent attendance, please don't disappoint us. Everyone's co-operation is greatly appreciated.

Club Members - - - Want Better Publicity?

Publicity chairmen for clubs and organizations were urged this week to enroll in a special four-week newspaper writing course.

The suggestion came from Marianne Scott, society editor of Paddock Publications, who said it would enable groups to have better, more readable publicity.

The course is being offered at Maine township high school adult evening school and will be taught by Robert R. Trotter, columnist and editor of the Edlson-Norwood Review. The course will answer the question: "What is news and how should news releases be prepared to be acceptable to editors?"

Registration for the class is $2. It begins October 4 and registration is September 27 to 30 from 7 to 9 p.m. in the school cafeteria.

Colored Folder Hails Restaurant Month

A handsomely illustrated folder, in four colors, prepared by the Allgauer Restraurants and featuring the outstanding facilities of these nationally famed establishments has been made available to the public.

A highway map of the north shore and northwest suburbs of Chicago makes up one of the panels of the folder and shows the locations of the two restaurants—"Allgauer's-on-Ridge", 6666 Ridge Avenue - and Allgauer's Fireside, 7200 Lincoln Avenue, at Touhy.

A folder may be obtained simply by requesting it of the headwaiter at either restaurant, or by dropping a postcard with the individual's name and addess to the manager of "Allgauer's-on-Ridge" or the Fireside.

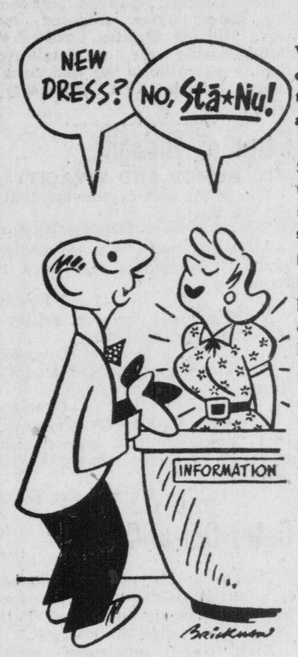
Send your clothes to the drycleaner who uses

Stā★Nu the miracle fabric finish



Wait till you see what Sta★Nu can do for your clothes. Even the ones that are starting to look too limp and tired to wear!

Restores lost textile oils

Sta★Nu restores vital oils lost through wear and cleaning—the invisible oils that give life and resilience to your garments.

Next best thing to new clothes

Sta★Nu finishing is colorless, odorless. But you can see and feel the difference in your clothes. Colors look new-bright. Fabrics feel soft and smooth—like new again.

Wrinkles hang right out!

Sta★Nu makes any fabric wrinkle and dirt resistant. Suits, slacks and dresses come up smiling even after packing or rumpling.

Try one garment and see!

Send that "problem" suit or dress to a Sta★Nu drycleaner. Let him prove what Sta★Nu can do for it!

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCHES

The infinite allness of God, good, and the consequent unreality of sickness and discord will be stressed at Christian Science services Sunday, October 3.

Readings from the King James Version of the Bible and correlative passages from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy comprise the Lesson - Sermon entitled "Unreality."

That real dominion and power are derived from God is brought out in the Scriptural passages to be read, including the following statement by Paul (II Timothy 1:7): "For God hath not given us the spirit of fear; but of power, and of love, and of a sound mind."

From Science and Health the following selections will be among those read (414:21-23): "The Scripture declares, 'The Lord He is God (good); there is none else beside Him.' Even so, harmony is universal, and discord is unreal."

The Golden Text is from Matthew (7:18,19): "A good tree cannot bring forth evil fruit, neither can a corrupt tree bring forth good fruit. Every tree that bringeth not forth good fruit is hewn down, and cast into the fire."

Cards Aim For First Win At Dowuers Grove Saturday

THURSDAY, SEPT. 30, 1954

MAC SAYS

BY G. A. McELROY

GAME OF THE WEEK in the Northwest conference and one of the most important of the whole season will be played at Palatine Friday night when the Glenbrook Spartans, loaded with potential championship material, take on the Palatine Pirate powerhouse.

Both outfits figure, along with Antioch, as the best in the circuit and their first two games seem to verify that rating.

Palatine expects the biggest crowd ever to see a football game on the home grounds.

Two teams showed Saturday they must not be counted out of the title race and whether or not they finish on top are likely to upset some of the touted teams. We refer to Benville and Grant, who looked good in their league openers.

WAUCONDA SUFFERED a severe blow to their chances when their one regular lineman, Stu Slove, broke a leg in practice. Slove was all-conference second team center as a sophomore and was ready to be a standout this year.

Over at Northbrook injuries have kept Ken Schulteis, end and captain, out of the first two Spartan games. Ken Schmidt of Glenbrook, who was on Palatine's conference championship team in 1952 as a sophomore, may be lost for the Palatine game due to a knee cartilage injury. Schmidt is a 200 pound tackle.

PALATINE's DADS CLUB is taking movies of all Pirate games. At home they will take the shots from a big judges stand that Clarence Brinkman, track manager of Arlington Park race track, has donated to the club. The dads club has also offered to use their influence to promote better sportsmanship among adult fans at this year's games and thus help the student body in their effort to win the Northwest Conference sportsmanship trophy.

A teacher and two students form a committee in each school of the Northwest Conference to rate the opposing crowd, cheer leaders, and team on sportsmanship at each of the league football and basketball games.

Ratings will be compiled by Louis Rouse of Grayslake, secretary of the conference. Northwest conference student councils award a trophy at the end of the year to the school with the best average rating. Grant was the winner last year.

REALIGNMENT OF SCHOOLS in the suburban area is coming in the near future as some outgrow others in the same conference, and as new schools are organized. Right now North Chicago, Round Lake, Elmwood Park, and Wheaton in the north and west suburbs are without conference affiliations. Just what changes may take place in Northwest or North Suburban membership is a question which may be discussed soon, but the problem involves the whole suburban area rather than one or two leagues.

The only eight team set up in the area we can see which would bring together schools of close to the same enrollment would be eight Lake county schools.

These schools range from 300 to 450 right now and are Lake Forest, Warren, Round Lake, Antioch, Grant, Grayslake, Wauconda, and Ela-Vernon. Future growth surveys show these schools will remain in the same size bracket. Remaining Schools of the North Suburban and Northwest, with some new ones and others not in a league, might form a 12 team league with two divisions and have play offs. The north section might be Crystal Lake, Woodstock, McHenry, Zion-Benton, North Chicago, and Libertyville with the south group made up of Barrington, Palatine, Glenbrook, Bensenville, Wheaton, and Elmwood Park.

Or if second high schools are built in the Cicero, Maywood, LaGrange, Arlington Heights, and other areas, two eight team leagues might be formed. It is not too early for school people of the area to start studying the problem.

DICK McAULIFFE played sixty minutes of football for Carleton college against Knox Saturday in Galesburg, helping his mates win, 14-7. The former Heights grad made many good tackles, then recovered a Knox fumble on their own ten, setting up the winning TD.

Marv Berschet officially made the Washington Redskins pro football team, playing against the 49ers Sunday . . . Marv's wife and two babies are moving to Washington, D. C., until the season is over.

Unusual fall sports activity at Arlington these days are the workouts of several boys with tennis coach Ken Schaller. It may indicate increased interest in the net sport at AHTHS . . . Then there's the Heights fan who stated he had seen more action in Friday night's Maine-Arlington game than he did Saturday between Notre Dame and Texas.

BOB WHAMMOND who coaches varsity football at Dundee is a former Libertyville High lineman who starred under Art Bergstrom's coaching. Bergstrom is now athletic director at Bradley University . . . Ela's hopes for an outstanding basketball team this winter were jolted a bit when Jim Hilbun, regular guard, moved to Pittsburgh.

Barney Schur who was Palatine's Little League membe of the all-star team which played Thillens last week did all right for Palatine by hitting a triple with the bags loaded to help the stars win the game.

Roy LaLonde, popular Palatine real estate man, has been shooting some fine rounds of golf at Inverness as a "B" class player. Last week he got a thrill equalled only by that first round under 80 on scramble fest day. Roy shot a one under par 34 on the Inverness front nine . . . Dave Corso of Glenbrook was the Chicago Herald American's back of the week for his great playing against Lake Forest.

QUICK OBSERVATIONS: We note in only two of 15 pre-season football openers for Northwest and West Suburban league teams did the losers tally other than six or no points . . . Oak Park against LaGrange and Leyden JV against Bensenville were the only exceptions . . . Ridiculous selection of All-Americans has already begun by national magazines, as did the selection of top football college teams in the country, most of them not even playing at that time . . . One magazine beat everyone to the punch by selecting "next year's All-Americans," including only juniors . . . Guess the games still have to be played, though, to get the gate.

Something new in West Suburban circles is the naming of an athletic trainer at Maine high school, John Huizinga.

We met an ideal league bowler the other night, one who'd finished his business in Omaha Tuesday in time to catch a plane home for bowling that night, then take off again the next morning for Albuquerque . . . He's Dick Johnson of Arlington Heights.

Marv Nygren, former Maine quarterback, is now listed as a possible starting guard with Michigan . . . Among prospects at tackle for Northwestern is Ed Zagol of Downers Grove . . . When York downed LaGrange Saturday afternoon it was simply a repeat performance of last year when victory over the Lions forced Chuck Bennet's boys to share the West Suburban grid crown with both York and Hinsdale.

Conversions May Decide Palatine Spartan Affair

by G. A. McELROY

FRIDAY

Glenbrook at Palatine 6:30
Wauconda at Bensenville 6:00 (doubleheader).

SATURDAY

Ela-Vernon at Antioch 8:00.
Grayslake at Grant 8:00.

It is very early in the season to point out certain games as ones to decide the conference championship but the Glenbrook at Palatine battle Friday night looms as the all-important game for both teams. Since last season when Glenbrook eked out a 7-0 victory over at Northbrook in the last few minutes of play the meeting of the two this year has appeared to be a championship contest. Both teams are almost intact from a year ago.

Last year Palatine lost to Ela-Vernon (champ), Antioch (2nd), and Glenbrook in the first three games and then took 4 straight onesided victories. Glenbrook was downed only by champion Ela-Vernon and second place Antioch. While Antioch still is the team to beat, Palatine and Glenbrook both have more material, bigger boys, and more speed than any other teams in the league. Certainly Friday's clash will give one of the two the edge in the league race though the loser will by no means be out of the running.

PALATINE LOOKED impressive whipping veteran Libertyville, 25-6, and after a very sluggish first half chalked up 20 points while holding Ela to no first downs in the second half of the league opener, winning 26-0. Glenbrook has looked even more impressive beating Lake Forest, 20-0, and Wauconda, 21-7.

Glenbrook has three breakaway ball carriers who can go all the way if the opportunity presents itself in Dave Corso, Bob Boyd, and Gerry Windells. Corso was named Chicago area back of the week for his exploits against Lake Forest. Boyd, an accurate place kicker, was one of the best running backs in the league last year as a sophomore.

WINDELLS IS an outstanding sprinter and like Jim Hess of Palatine may be used sparingly but with the idea of a long gainer play to break loose for a touchdown. Hess carried the ball twice for the Pirates at Ela gaining 12 and 23 yards to score a touchdown. Palatine has in Alan Eck a veteran back who is shifty and speedy. Eck was 440 track champ and second all-conference back last year. There are no harder hitting ball carriers in the league than Palatine's Ray Lorden at quarterback and Johnnie Dilks at halfback. Both teams are well fortified with line plungers and broken field runners and both have heavy veterans in the line.

Whether Captain Ken Schulteis will play at end for Glenbrook is a question. A bruised heel has kept him out of the first two games. Likewise, 200 pound tackle Ken Schmidt may miss the Palatine game due to a knee injury. Co-Captain with Schulteis is Jerl May, 195 pound all-conference tackle. Borre and Gavin at guards, Crawford at center, John Sveiven at end, and Wallmo at tackle give Glenbrook a line intact from 1953 weighing 170 to 200 and averaging 185 pounds. It is upon the effectiveness of this line that Glenbrook is accorded a slight edge in Friday's game.

PALATINE HAS five giant veterans in the line and their chance of whipping the Spartans depends on getting an even break in lineplay. Lawrence Wheeler and Leonard Rohde at tackles, Tom Hillesheim at center, and Douglas Hildebrandt and Dave Nesset at ends weigh from 180 to 210, averaging 190, and stand from six feet to six-feet-four in height. Behind them Coach Charley Feutz has a flock of good reserves.

Palatine has failed to score the extra point after seven of their eight touchdowns. Glenbrook, with Bob Boyd kicking, has scored six out of seven. This may be the margin of difference between the two teams Friday night. The game could be a high scoring affair if the lines can break the fast backs loose.

IT MIGHT BE a 21-20 battle and then again the tough lines might make it a game like last year when the only TD was made possible by a break late in the game. Certainly fans are going to see the best football the Northwest Conference has to offer when its two largest schools clash with championship hopes at stake.

Palatine frosh-soph will be the underdog in the preliminary, which starts at 6:30. Glenbrook's soph team overpowered Wauconda last week 32-0. Palatine played a 6-6 tie with Ela Monday and lost 6-0 to Barrington the previous week.

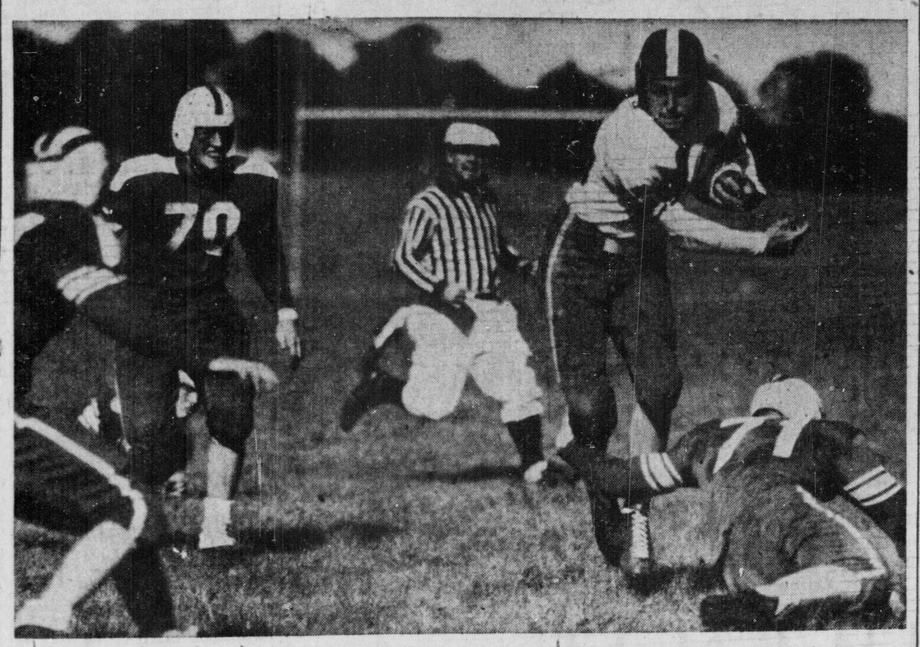
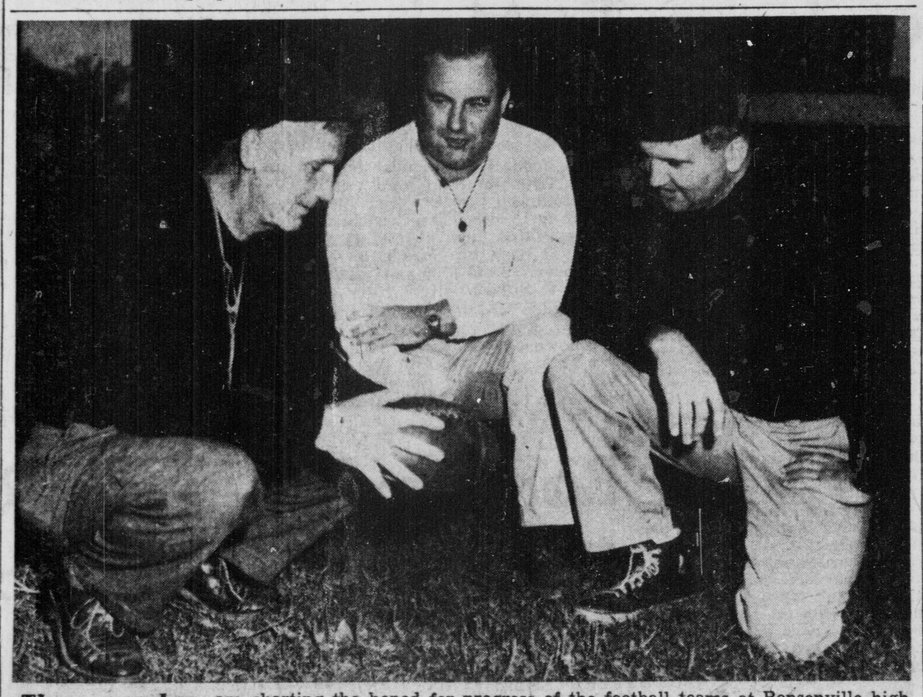
IN OTHER GAMES this week Bensenville is host to Wauconda Friday night in a double bill starting at 6:00. Saturday night Antioch hosts Ela-Vernon and Grant entertains Grayslake. The forecast on games this week give Glenbrook a one point edge on Palatine with each scoring at least two touchdowns. Bensenville rates a one touchdown edge on Wauconda, Grant looks like a victor over Grayslake by a very narrow margin, and Antioch should whip Ela-Vernon by three touchdowns.



Alan Eck (30) carries the ball this time for Palatine against Ela-Vernon Saturday afernoon, the Pirates winning, 26-0. Trying to stop him from the ground is Phil Light (71) with Robert Benson (70) coming up from the side for Ela-Vernon. —Staff Telephoto.



These coaches are charting the hoped for progress of the football teams at Bensenville high school this year. At the left varsity grid mentor Tom Meneguin holds the football while his assistant, Frank Novatny, crouches at the right. In the center is Paul Henry, frosh-soph coach. —Staff Photo.

Bears, Cards Clash Saturday In Heights Midget Football

Midget football program of the Arlington Heights park district is continuing its regular Saturday morning schedule with 75 boys coming out for instruction. Teams have been organized and games are being played, all to the tune of new jerseys.

The park district has acquired green and white jerseys for the Lions, yellow and black for the Bears, red numbers on white for the Packers and white numbers on red for the Cardinals. There are still some jerseys going begging, so other boys living within the park district can still join the program by reporting Saturday morning to the high school practice field.

ADULT HELP is still being sought so the four high school coaches directing the program can turn their thoughts to the high school level, scouting as well as coaching.

One team, the Lions, already has the help of "civilian" Tom Kouros, enabling those boys to practice during the week. This additional workout helped the Lions defeat the Cardinals Saturday, 6-0.

The Packers and Bears tied, 6-6, in the other game of the morning. This Saturday it will be Packers-Lions, and Bears-Cardinals.

"BUS" ORMSBEE, head varsity mentor of the high school, is directing the program for the park district, with the able assistance of Bill Beckman for the Cardinals, Maurice Kellogg the Packers, and Dick Mudge the Bears.

It is hoped three adults can take over these three teams to enable the high school men to turn their talents elsewhere.

Main object of the program is to provide some instruction in football to boys before they enter high school. Eligible are sixth, seventh and eighth graders within the park district.

Practice Saturday is again slated for 9-11 a.m. A pair of glasses left on the playing field last week can be picked up by the owner this week.

Paddock Publications Bowling Tournaments 2nd, 3rd Sundays In Jan.

Paddock Publications Inter-League Handicap bowling tournament will be held in Palatine and Arlington Heights this year the second and third Sundays in January, 1954.

For the men: first place teams as of December 18 will be eligible for the tournament January 9 at HiWay Recreation, Palatine.

For the women: first place teams as of December 25 will be eligible for the tournament January 16 at Arlington Heights Bowling Lanes.

All sanctioned leagues bowling at the above two alleys, plus Mt Prospect Bowling Lanes, Wheeling Bowling Lanes, Bowlwood at Wood Dale, and Trausch-Linden Recreation in Bensenville can participate in the inter-league tournament.

Complete rules and entry blanks will be available in about another month.

Big Boys Slow On Defense For Arlington High

by BOB PADDOCK

Cardinal gridders from Arlington Heights high school are still seeking their first win of the season and possibly this Saturday afternoon the locals can turn the trick. Coach "Bus" Ormsbee's boys journey to Downers Grove with the frosh-soph preliminary starting at 12:15.

Both teams will be seeking their first wins of the year. With the Downers varsity it's a different story, however, as they have won both pre-season opener and the 19-13 affair against Glenbard.

WEST SUBURBAN league looks like a topsy turvy affair after the first weekend of play. Heading the parade was the 7-6 York win over LaGrange. Hinsdale dumped Riverside, 33-0, as expected, with Downers tripping Glenbard.

The Maine-Heights tussle was an even afair, indicating a possibility of Hinsdale leading the conference parade with 5 teams fighting for second, and Glenbard and Riverside bringing up the rear.

BIG NEED at Arlington is boys who can tackle. The Cardinals have the size to make them look like "big, bad boys" but are being pushed around almost at will on defense. Basically, the boys just can't bend over and make those tackles about the hips and legs, and like to stand, watching the play, while they're shoved around.

This week Coach Ormsbee will probably use some smaller boys on defense, believe it or not, who can stoop over and make like football players. Morale is high, though, at Heights with the boys determined to redeem themselves against Downers Saturday.

BALL CARRIERS haven't been getting to the openings soon enough, with more speed and quick decision needed. To date the Cardinals have played two great halves, the seconds against Leyden and Maine. Co-coaches Ormsbee, Beckman and Kellogg are hoping their charges can have two of the same against Downers Grove.

FROSH-SOPHS were greatly improved against Maine over Leyden. Most of the boys looked good with Don Plank making some great blocks. Downfield blocking was better this time, according to coach John Ligon. Ashley Haase made several good runs, but was caught from behind a couple of times.

Some changes in the starting lineup are in prospect for the Downers Grove game. Ron Pratchen, 160 pound tackle, will be eligible this week and may start. Most of the boys are still not hitting low enough.

Four To Try For Fullback Spot At Bensenville

Harder hitting fullback is the great need at Bensenville high school where the Bisons are getting ready for Wauconda this week, the two squads clashing at the DuPage county school Friday night, starting at 6:30.

Wauconda leads Bensenville, 3-2, in games played since 1949, and Coach Tom Meneguin's boys are determined to even the count. Meneguin intends to try four different boys at fullback, including all four of the starting backfield, in hopes of getting the best man available at the hard hitting position.

AT GRAYSLAKE Bison blocking was below par. True, the heat affected both teams, but Bensenville did not look as good as it did the week previous against Leyden.

Starting line will probably be about the same as last week. Bensenville won against Wauconda in '49 and '50, but then lost the following three seasons, including 40-0 and 20-0 affairs the past two years.

THE FROSH-SOPHS, coached by Paul Henry, will play the opener against Wauconda Friday night, with many new faces certain to see action. Coach Henry plans to use as many boys as possible to see what they can do in competition.

One substitute in starting backfield will probably include Warren Nelson at left halfback instead of Bowe. Bright light of the Grayslake game was the driving of Lars Henriksen, who averaged 8 or 9 yards each time he carried the ball.

A blocked punt and a fumble in the fourth quarter brought defeat to the heads of the frosh-sophs Saturday at Grayslake. The Bensenville yearlings are out to make amends this week.

Heights Cross Country Loses To Maine, 23-41

Arlington Heights high school cross country team finished on the long end of a 23-41 count against Maine Thursday afternoon, as three of Coach Russ Attis' first ten boys quit during the run.

Needless to say, Coach Attis was "very disappointed." He had expected to make a much better showing against the Des Plaines school, but could do nothing as Bill Randag, Roger Nuensinger and Jim Summers all dropped out after two to four laps.

JOHN SHEPPARD ran off with first place in 9:30 on the Heights course. Bill Palmer finished fourth for the Cardinals. Next was Ray Hornbostel, eleventh, with teammates taking the next eight spots.

The scorers:
John Sheppard, A, 9:39.
Ron Piening, M, 9:41.
Henry Marcy, M, 9:48.
Bill Palmer, A, 9:50.
Bill Cook, M, 9:51.

Golf Exhibition At Arlington Country Club

Arlington Country club invites anyone interested in golf to come out Sunday, October 10, to see an exhibition between George Dayiantis, Cook county amateur champion, and H. DeWitt, former McHenry amateur champion, vs. Gene Battastoni, 1954 Valley View champion, and Dan Taggart, home pro. Tee off time; 1:00 p.m.

The defensive line for Palatine held in the game against Ela-Vernon Saturday afternoon with the Pirates coming home from Lake Zurich 26-0 happy. Lawrence Wheeler (51) and George Huber (45) are doing the brunt of the job here, with Leonard Rohde (46) at the left. The man with the superman mask for Ela (62) is halfback Louis Risi. —Staff Telephoto.

Good 2nd Half Not Enough As Arlington Loses To Maine

Arlington's football teams dropped two decisions to Maine Friday night before a side-bursting crowd that had the athletic department, gate receipts section, happy. Take was about $2,000, following the $1,200 night the week before. These funds provide the only income for expenses of all sports at the high school, other than salaries.

Football-wise, the varsity lost, 20-13, in a game action-packed on occasion, with the second half play of the Cardinals pleasing many. The frosh-sophs lost 7-6, in a heartbreaker that saw the winners clinch the contest with just 45 seconds left to play.

THE VARSITY once again showed its lack of ability to block properly, particularly downfield. Defensive line looked weak, too, as smaller Maine boys pushed the Cardinals out of the money, time after time.

Maine drew first blood the first quarter when Kevin O'Brian went across on a three yard plunge. Pass from Dave Haller to Book set up the opportunity, covering 47 yards.

Starting from its own 15, Maine used twelve running plays, plus two passes, for six first downs with Haller scoring from two yds. out in the second quarter. Arlington hadn't offered much up to this point with the halftime tally, 19-0, at intermission. Steve Easter had kicked the point after for Maine.

SECOND HALF was a different story. Starting from the eleven, Malzahn carried the ball to the fifteen. Sujack ran to the 29. After two short dashes, Maher passed to Lussow for a first down on the 40. Maher picked up five yards, then handed of to Sujack for 14 more to the Maine 41, and first down.

Jack Ebert dashed to the 33, then to the 30. Sujack carried from the 28 to the 15, but a fumble moved play back to the 20. Denny Maher, unable to pass, dashed around left end for the final 20 yards to the goal line. Lew Green's attempt at conversion was unsuccessful.

MAINE STRUCK back in the third quarter with a TD on a three yard plunge by O'Brian, Easter kicking the point after. A previous 60 yard run by Haller was called back due to clipping.

With about ten seconds left, Maher threw an eight yard pass to Malzahn on the two yard line for the final score. The Cardinals had come from their own 30 on a ten yard dash by Sujack, a 15 yard penalty, and a 20 yard pass, Maher to Sujack.

Arlington was on the short end of most of the statistics: 13-8 in first downs; 198-83 yards rushing; and total yards, 274-167. The locals led in pass completions, though, with 7 of 11, compared to Maine's 4 of 8.

Antioch Defeats Grant In Opener Of Northwest Play

Antioch opened the Northwest conference season with a pair of home victories over neighboring Grant. The varsity won, 12-6, and the frosh-sophs, 13-6. Antioch used few plays after the opening kickoff to score their first tally with fullback Bill Blake going over from the three yard line. From that point the game was evenly played the rest of the way.

Midway in the final quarter Antioch staged another scoring march with Bill Gallager plunging three yards to score. In the final three minutes Bob Klaus, Grant's key performer at quarterback, scored on a short plunge.

Grant appeared surprisingly strong against an Antioch team tabbed as a top contender for the championship.

Maine JV's Dump Arlington Reserves, 14-0

Maine made it a clean sweep Monday when the JV's clashed at Arlington Heights, the visitors winning, 14-0. The victory represented the fourth football and fifth win over the Cardinals in five days.

Coach Maurice Kellogg opened the game with Bill Lussow and Bob Harrington at the ends, Albert Rose and John Cummins at the tackles, Mickey Harris and Edward Beier at guards, and Ron Herff at center.

The backfield included Lew Green at quarter, Dick Malcomsen and Carl Coffman at the halves, and Phil Halverson at full. Starters will change from game to game, as the idea of JV ball is to give varsity juniors and reserves needed experience.

The Arlington defense appeared good most of the game, though a few errors brought on the Maine TD's. Maine scored in the third period on a five yard run after a long pass had set up the play. In the fourth period it was a 50 yard dash off tackle.

Palatine Drubs Ela-Vernon After Power 2nd Half, 26-0

Palatine opened its bid for the Northwest title by whipping defending champion Ela-Vernon at Lake Zurich Saturday, 26-0. The game was marred by much fumbling on both sides and numerous penalties committed by the Palatine team. Ela's undermanned outfit put up a game battle particularly in the first half but late in the game appeared badly outclassed.

The Pirates got a first period touchdown when Nesset recovered an Ela fumble on their 33 yard line and Alan Eck scored shortly thereafter on an end run from the nine yard line. Eck had a 16 yard run in the series leading up to the score. The place kick for extra point was blocked by Ronald Soos, Ela back, who blocked two more before the game was over.

THE SLUGGISH Pirates did not score again until after coaches Feutz and Moylan had a chance to point out how poor they were playing at the half time intermission. Opening the second half Palatine marched 66 yards to another score made by Jim Penning from the five. A run of 31 yards by Eck and one of 12 by Penning set up the scoring opportunity.

In the fourth period the Pirates staged another drive of 63 yards sparked by Ray Lorden and John Dilks. Alan Eck ran around Ela's left end 24 yards for the TD. A little later a poor Ela punt went out on their own 35 and Palatine scored again. Jim Hess ran 15 but on the next play this was nullified by a 15 yard penalty. Eck then gained 12 yards off tackle and Hess skirted Ela's left end 23 to score. This time, after three blocked kicks by Soos, the Palatine center passed the ball over to head off the player who was to hold for the place kick.

IN THE CLOSING minutes Ela was on their two yard line and after two attempts to gain, failed they punted and big 210 pound Leonard Rohde blocked the kick for an automatic safety behind the Ela end zone.

Palatine had a big edge in ground gaining though their passing attack in 11 attempts netted nothing at all. Ela made no first downs in the second half which was all Palatine. The Pirate speed and team depth especially in the form of fresh backfield men gave them a big advantage over Ela's green outfit. Eck gained 104 yards, Ray Lorden 78 and John Dilks 63, all having better than a seven yard average.

Bowlers To Help Blind Children

Chicago and suburban area bowlers are being asked to come to the aid of some of the little blind children in the Chicago area, during the week of October 4-10.

A collection to help swell the nursery school scholarship fund sponsored by the Parents of the Blind, of Chicago, will be taken up in nearly 300 Chicago and suburban bowling alleys that week. These funds are to be used for children who suffer from blindness, in most cases caused by fibroplazia, a disease peculiar to premature babies for which there is no known cure.

Duck Hunters To Fight For Place In Blinds

There may be warfare on Grass Lake with the opening of the duck hunting season October 22.

The stage for trouble has been set by the state department of conservation, which is closing off 700 of the 900 acres it purchased last year as a game preserve and is permitting a first come, first served possession of the blinds.

In the past, hunters could establish their blinds and have a reasonable assurance that they would be there for them when the season opened. Now it is a matter of possession, regardless of who builds it and that may mean trouble.

Bensenville Trims Rams For First Northwest Loop Win

by ELI WHITNEY

Bensenville football squad took its first Northwest conference game Saturday afternoon at Grayslake, 15-7.

Most action the first quarter was in the Rams' area, with the Bisons threatening the end of the first period. John Baumgartner caught a pass from quarterback Ken Sirotski as the second quarter opened, and carried the ball ten yards to the three.

SIROTSKI charged through the middle for the touchdown, with Bob Gullborg's conversion counting the seventh point.

The Rams came back with several runs, going to the Bensenville five. Left halfback Larry Laske carried the payoff ball through the middle standing up. Captain Jerry Beck evened the score as his conversion sailed over the crossbar.

The tally remained even until the fourth period when the Bisons' Ken Gengel intercepted a pass, his mates moving up to the Grayslake 15. Tom Philiben scooted between right end and tackle to score.

THE RAMS, though on the offensive, were pushed back to the 15. When attempting a punt the ball was centered over the kicker's head, bouncing past the end zone for an automatic safety for B'ville. Grayslake completed several passes in a last ditch attempt to score, but was unsuccessful.

Grayslake won the statistical yardage, 235-205. Both squads made 11 first downs with the Rams completing four of eleven passes, the Bisons four of ten. Coach Meneguin's boys doubled the count on the losers in fumbles, 6-3, but recovered seven of the nine.

West Suburban Grads On DeKalb Cross Country Team

The first week of cross country practice at Northern Illinois State Teachers College has brought out only a sparse turnout. A total of 12 prospective harriers are working out for the opener with Beloit October 2.

Of that total, nine candidates are freshmen. Coach Carl Appell has only two lettermen and one other experienced runner on hand.

Top freshmen candidates include John Kilcullen of Des Plaines, who was captain of his high-school cross country team and holds the school mile record at 4:31.9. Larry LaFleur of Glenbard has four years of varsity prep experience.

Last year Northern won three of five dual meets.

Saddle Club To Hold Amateur Show

The newly-formed West Lake County Western Saddle club at Round Lake is rehearsing for its first amateur horse show to be staged at 7:30 p.m. Saturday, October 2, at the Ridgeview Stables, Rt. 59A.

The club members range in ages from 10 to adults. The organization meets every second Sunday and engages in outdoor exercize, trail rides, and wiener roasts.

Hepatitis

Somebody has brought up the subject of hepatitis again so here goes with another quick article on the subject. In the first place the infectious hepatitis that affects dogs is not the hepatitis or epidemic jaundice which attacks humans according to Gaines Research.

Because dog owners are hearing a good deal about infectious hepatitis these days, many are concerned as to whether children, or adults, may have been exposed and in danger of contracting it from handling dogs that a short time later become ill with this disease. Such fears are groundless and there have been no reports of human cases of epidemic hepatitis directly contracted from dogs.

Canine hepatitis is caused by a virus that usually attacks puppies more severely than grown dogs. The symptoms of the disease are similar to those of distemper, but unlike distemper, the virus is not airborne. A dog may be sick for only a short time and die from it, but in many cases may be so mild that the dog scarcely appears to be sick. Dogs get it by direct contact with an infected dog through the saliva, nasal discharge or via the urine. Vaccines are now available which can be injected into puppies to give them lifelong immunity to infectious hepatitis, and there are also serums which give temporary immunity.

Doggy Week End

This coming week end will be a rather "gone to the dogs" affair as far as folks owning two various breeds of dogs are concerned.

Out at Palatine the Airedale Terrier Club of Illinois will hold a sanction match on Sunday, October 3, 1954, starting at 2 p.m. at the Dogpatch Kennels located on Ela road south of Palatine road. There will be all the regular classes held in addition to a class for untrimmed dogs plus a demonstration of obedience trained Airedales and a parade of Champion Airedales.

The whole affair will be judged by the well known Terrier breeder and owner Harold Florsheim.

While all of this is going on in Palatine, down in Des Plaines at Rand Park the 1st Training club for German Shepherd Dogs of Chicago will be holding their annual obedience trial starting in the morning and lasting all day. All classes in obedience will be judged which includes Novice A & B, Open A & B and Utility.

Arlington Shepherd

Speaking of German Shepherds brings to mind that I notice where the Dog World Magazine's "Award of Canine Distinction" has been issued to "Kip von Arlington" a male shepherd owned by Arnold Selan, 706 S. Dunton, Arlington Heights. The dog had three very high scores to win his CDX obedience degree in three consecutive trials, something which does not take place very often, especially when it comes to having three consecutive top scores to obtain the degree.

Barks and Bays

Writing on the subject of dogs makes me think of fellow author. In covering the Eastern Dog show, Mechanics building, Boston, this year, writer Jack Baird marked the 52nd anniversary of his first dog show, in the same place.

'End Of Yankee Dynasty Is Here' Asserts Lane - They Must Rebuild

The failure of the New York Yankees to win their sixth straight pennant means one thing to Frank Lane, general manager of the Chicago White Sox. That is that their mighty empire is beginning to crumble at the edges. The Yankees may never again, says Lane, dominate the American League as they did the past five years.

Lane's views are set forth in a front page story of the current issue of The Sporting News. Cleveland, he says, is in the process of breaking up the Yankee pennant monopoly and he adds that the Indians are going to be tough for a few years to come.

"THE YANKEES don't have a corner on the player market any more," Lane told The Sporting News. "Cleveland has good material coming up. The Red Sox and Tigers are in the ascendancy, and the Yankees still have the White Sox to worry about."

We're still quoting Lane. "Stengel was giving me the business last spring," he said, "about our inability to find a third baseman. He told everyone that if Lane was so smart why didn't he get himself a farm system like the Yankees.

"He fancies himself as quite a genius," Lane went on. "But what happened to that great Yankee farm system he was bragging about? The Yankees failed to win the pennant because the farm system wasn't delivering the material it used to. The Yankees needed pitching, but they couldn't get it. And, by the way, they haven't had a regular first baseman since the great Lou Gehrig retired."

LANE WENT ON to say that pitching is the Yankee pillar that definitely appears to be cracking, and that's the most important pillar in any baseball structure.

"It has been glaringly evident all season," Lane said, "that the Yankees couldn't reach out in their former custom and bring in one of their young strong-armed rookies from the minor leagues. They just weren't there."

The way Lane looks at it, the only department in which the Yankee farm system has real strength is catching, and that's where they need help the least of all. They have Yogi Berra, whom Lane considers the best in the game today, and they have Charley Silvera as Yogi's stand-in. Silvera is good enough, says Lane, to be the No. 1 catcher on almost any other team. Besides these men, Stengel has four catchers in his farm system who are probably the best in the minors.

BUT THERE ARE no replacements, he goes on, for the pitching stalwarts — Allie Reynolds, who is 37 years old, Eddie Lopat and Johnny Sain, both 36. Others on the staff include such oldsters as Ralph Branca, Jim Konstanty and Tommy Byrne.

Not letting up on Stengel, Lane said that if Stengel takes the job again next season he might find that there's something tougher than not winning a pennant. That's trying to rebuild a club, "Now," said Lane, "He may learn how the other half lives. It wasn't any miracle that Stengel won pennants the past five years," he added, "because he held all the aces."

New Strikeout Record

For two generations, no pitcher in the American Association had been able to break the strikeout record set by Charlie (Heinie) Berger. But then came along Herb Score. When Score, pitching for Indianapolis, struck out Bob Stephenson of Columbus in the sixth inning of a game August 19, Stephenson became number 246 on Score's whiff list in 1954. And that, says The Sporting News, broke the record of 245 set by Berger, pitching for Columbus, way back in 1906—48 years ago.

Seven Cheerleaders At Bensenville High

Leading the cheers for Bensenville high school football teams are seven girls, all holdovers of the group selected last year by members of the faculty.

The cheerleaders are chosen by the faculty after a series of tryouts in November. Training of new girls is by the veterans, with selection based on ability, cheerfulness, control of the crowd, and neatness. Selection is on these points, and not based on a popularity contest.

Twenty-five girls are expected to compete for the squad this year, with instructor Lorraine Probst sponsor of the group. One boy was chosen last year, David Hoch, but he chose not to come out this time.

Girls on the squad include Barbara and Carol Bartuska, Jonice Biewitz, Jeannine Tranter, Diane Harvey, Diane Brda and Marilyn Bedgood.

Card Frosh Lose Openers

Arlington's freshman football team lost its first two games of the season this past week, dropping a 27-7 contest to Crystal Lake Wednesday of last week, then succumbing to Maine Monday, 20-6.

The squad, coached by Curtis Larsen and Howard Lester, travels to Palatine Thursday.

Poor tackling and line play was evident in both games for Heights, though the second contest showed improvement over the initial affair.

CRYSTAL LAKE had a smooth running and passing game, scoring twice in the first quarter. The visitors tallied again in the third and fourth periods, making three of four conversions in the process.

Two short bucks in the first and third quarters, plus an intercepted pass for 30 yards and the other TD in the final period, accounted for Maine's scoring Monday.

FOR ARLINGTON it was a 30 yard pass from Jack Webber to Roger Farleigh, who ran 20 yards for the Cardinal TD. Greg Rose kicked the conversion.

Against Maine Bruce Bjorklund tossed an aerial to Ed Kelley for ten yards into the end zone. Kick by Rose was blocked. On the brighter side for Arlington was the punting by Jack Webber.

Starting lineup included Bob Mors and Roger Farleigh at the ends, James Schlitz and Bill Doerin at the tackles, Floyd Nolte and Wayne Ryberg at the guards, and Greg Rose at center. The backfield included Denny Thill at quarter, Don Dieke and Sam Caltagirone at left half, Ed Kelly at right, and Jack Webber and Bruce Bjorklund at full.

Floyd Nolte, 230 pound guard for Heights, pulled some ligaments in the second quarter of the Maine contest.

40 Boys Out For Gymnastics Team At Arlington Heights

First call for the gymnastics team at Arlington Heights high school brought out forty boys, with no seniors. Initial meet won't be held until after the holidays.

Boys ready to start workouts this week include 18 frosh, eight sophs and 14 juniors, according to coach Gay Hughes. Clearing the red tape, including parents permits, physicals, locker assignments, etc., is the first order of business. Second item will be emphasis on basic form, a noted lack last year.

First call for the girls' group, slated for Tuesday of this week, was expected to draw a large number. Plan for the girls this time, though, will be strictly exhibition and competition, not just recreation as permitted last year.

Squirrels and Dumplings

Some say this is the dish that made squirrels famous and it is a point we'll not argue because it is certainly a fine concoction worthy of some honor!

Cut 2 squirrels into serving pieces, place in a deep kettle and cover with 1 inch of water. Add 2 bay leaves, cover and simmer for 1 1/4 hours. Remove scum that forms on top. Add 1 cup onions sliced and quartered, 1 cup chopped celery, 10 medium carrots halved and quartered, 2½ teaspoons salt and ½ teaspoon pepper, along with another cup or two of boiling water if needed. Continue cooking 15 minutes, then add dumplings, re-cover kettle (keeping it tightly covered so the dumplings will raise) and cook another 15 minutes.

For dumplings, mix and sift 2 cups flour, ½ teaspoon salt and 4 teaspoons baking powder. Gradually add 3/4 cup milk, then turn dough on floured board, roll to ½ inch thickness and cut into 3-inch squares.

Naval Examinations Scheduled Soon

The ninth-annual competitive examination for high school seniors who desire to attend college and train for careers as naval officers will be held throughout the nation December 11. Applications for the NROTC are now available, but must be received by November 20.

Successful candidates will start their Naval careers in colleges and universities across the country in 1955, with substantial financial assistance from the government.

Applications are now available at all high schools, colleges, and navy recruiting stations, or direct from the chief of naval personnel, Washington 25, D. C.

Flat on his back was this Palatine ball carrier this time, tackled by an aggressive Ela-Vernon player. Rushing up to cover the play are Jacque Gross (74) of Ela and Larry Sheeler (41) of Palatine. —Staff Telephoto.

Mt. Prospect Golf Leaguers Close Season With Banquet

The Mount Prospect twilight golf league wound up the 1954 season last Tuesday at the Mount Prospect Country club with a banquet, election of officers, and presentation of awards and prizes. About 100 players from both divisions plus alternates and sponsors enjoyed the Sophie cuisine.

Retiring Senior president Bill Mott presided during the election of Junior officers for 1955-56. Unanimously elected were R. Louthain, president; R. Mors, vice-president; C. Hamburg, secretary; F. Erickson, treasurer; E. Robinson, membership; R. Wistar, rules; C. Shaffer, publicity; J. Keefer, weather judge.

MOVING UP into the senior positions for the 1955 season are G. O'Day, president; S. Deming, vice-president; W. Kadlec, secretary; G. Laubenheimer, treasurer; H. Baylis, membership; H. Ball, rules; R. Webb, publicity.

Mike Grimm and Stan Deming, vice presidents in charge of arrangements took over for the presentation of trophies to the league winners: Grand championship of the league and Monday night winner, Barclay Clearbrook Engineering co. Winner of the Tuesday night division, Mount Prospect Lions club. Second and third for Monday nights, Mount Prospect Hardware and Van Driel's Drug store. Second and third for Tuesday night, Henry Kruse's Schlitz and Mount Prospect Jewelers.

MOST VALUABLE player awards went to Bob Louthain of the Monday nighters and to Walt Kadlec of the Tuesday night division. Most valuable alternate was again Bob Lange.

First door prize went to Floyd Parker; second door prize, Al. Hengel; third door prize, Tony Colosimo; fourth, H. Patheal; fifth, A. G. Peterson; sixth, J. Remson; seventh, Ed. Danisch.

Prizes were also awarded to the winners of the "Day of Golf" tournament, which wound up the season for the league August 29. First place winners in each class were: Class "A", Hal Jauch; Class "B", Walt Oberlander; Class "C", Bill Lovell; Class "D", Carl Shaffer; Class "E", Ed Boddy; Alternate, G. Orr.

Illinois Seeks Ninth Straight Against West Coast Grid Elevens

Coach Ray Eliot will seek to extend his winning streak against Pacific Coast teams to nine straight when Illinois and Stanford clash October 2 in Palo Alto, Calif.

Eliot, since taking over as head coach of the Illini in 1942, has never lost to a Pacific Coast opponent. His record:

Jan. 1, 1947 - Illinois 45, UCLA 14 (Rose Bowl)
Oct. 13, 1950 - Illinois 14, UCLA 6.
Oct. 20, 1950 - Illinois 20, Washington 13.
Sept. 29, 1951 - Illinois 27, UCLA 13.
Oct. 20, 1951 - Illinois 27, Washington 20.
Jan. 1, 1952 - Illinois 40, Stanford 7 (Rose Bowl)
Oct. 11, 1952 - Illinois 48, Washington 14.
Oct. 3, 1953 - Illinois 33, Stanford 21.

Bison Sophs Drop 12-0 Tilt At Grayslake

by MAX ZOLLNER

Rallying in the fourth period of the frosh-soph game, Grayslake's Rams trounced Bensenville sophs, 12-0, in the season's opener at Grayslake Saturday afternoon.

Action was slow the opening period with neither team gaining much yardage. Some sensational running by Lars Henriksen brought smiles to Bison mentor Paul Henry as he picked up 48 yards.

In the second quarter, Bensenville end Palicke grabbed a pass to start the young gridders rolling. The completion left them on the Rams' 21, first and ten.

Coach Henry's squad marched to the six where a strong Grayslake stand prevented the TD. After no score in the third period, Wally Nelson plunged over from the four yard line for the winners' first tally. Later in the quarter Grayslake scored again with Fricke crossing paydirt.

Grayslake led in rushing, 111-54. However, the winners completed nary a toss of three attempts, while Bensenville completed two of ten. The young Bisons fumbled six times, the Rams twice, but the DuPage county eleven picked up five of the fumbles.

Pass Defense Is Vulnerable Spot Of Northwestern Wildcats

Northwestern's football team awaits the invasion of Southern California's undefeated Trojans in Dyche stadium Saturday (Oct. 2) with one of its major question marks only partically answered, namely defense.

In turning back Iowa State, 27 to 14, in last Saturday's opener, the Wildcats yielded only 39 yds. on the ground but proved vulnerable in the air as the Cyclones completed seven out of 14 aerials for 76 yards.

The rugged Wildcat line proved effective in bottling up Iowa State's running attack as it held the Hawkeyes for seven downs inside the five yard line to thwart one scoring attempt. The Cyclones averaged but 1.2 yards in 31 rushes.

Urge Duck Stamp Funds Be Kept For Ducks

An Illinois conservation leader today recommended that all sportsmen study a national wildlife federation proposal that the federal duck stamp act be amended to earmark a definite proportion of the receipts for acquisition of waterfowl refuges and public shooting areas.

Ray Johnson of Winchester, president of the Illinois federation of sportsmen's clubs, said a bill earmarking 40 per cent of duck stamp revenues for land acquisition was introduced in the closing days of the 83rd Congress. The bill died with adjournment, of course, but Johnson predicted similar legislation would be considered by the next Congress.

The bill was based on a proposal by Carl D. Shoemaker, veteran conservation consultant of the national federation. Shoemaker has pointed out that since the duck stamp license was first levied on waterfowl hunters in 1934, receipts have totaled more than $35 million. Less than 10 per cent has been used to buy waterfowl areas, which was the primary purpose behind the duck stamp act.

Increasing amounts have been used for development and maintenance of existing wildlife refuges. In recent years, according to Shoemaker, duck stamp funds have even been diverted for regular oprations of the U. S. fish and wildlife service, some of which have little if any relationship to the waterfowl program.

A Baltimore brewery has awarded $1,000 apiece to three Orioles in a favorite-player contest. And look what happened. As related in The Sporting News, Bob Turley hit the skids immediately after winning. After Vern Stephens won, his batting average dropped from above .300 to the .280's, and he came up with a bad back. The very day Joe Coleman received the award, he suffered a strained back.

Card Sophs Lose To Maine

The Heights frosh-sophs lost a heartbreaker to Maine Friday night when the winners advanced in closing minutes from their own 27 on six plays to pay dirt, pulling the game out of the fire, 7-6.

First two quarters were played between the two 30 yard stripes, until just before halftime when John Brownell intercepted a Maine toss on the 45, and streaked the rest of the distance for the TD. Dan Vittum attempted the conversion but was unsuccessful. Arlington tried a field goal from the 27 yard line, Paul Brown in position, but was unsuccessful.

IN THE FOURTH period Ashley Haase ran 70 yards for a TD, but it was called back for clipping. Then came that final drive by Maine with Braun running from the 27 to the 37, Wahler carrying to the Heights 48, a pass from Gerfen to Wyatt carrying to the 35, Glaser dashing to the four, and two plays later, the game.

Henry Gerfen went the final yard on a quarterback sneak. Jim Hawk drop kicked the point after.

Northwestern To Meet So. California Saturday

Northwestern's football team will be out to square matters with Southern California's Trojans in Saturday's (Oct. 2) intersectional clash at Dyche stadium. In the only previous meeting between the two teams in 1952, the Trojans beat the wildcats 31 to 0, in Los Angeles.

The Trojan attack is spearheaded by halfback Aramis Dandoy, one of the leading ball carriers on the coast last year, as he rolled up 518 yards running in addition to passing for 242 yards. He also had a 40-yard average as a kicker and led his teammates in scoring with seven TDs.

Leaves, Then Blooms, Should Be First In House Plant Planning

by OTTO H. AMLING

Rare is the home without house plants. More Americans are interested in house plants than in any other division of horticulture.

OTTO AMLING

A good start in house - plant growing is a stand, preferably with tiers or steps so that is possible.

Your local grower will help you select an attractive variety of plants, the basis of which should be foliage types — or green plants, as we call them. Then, for color-accent, flowering plants can be interspersed. Of course, the latter have their limited blooming periods and must be replaced from time to time. But the foliage plants, with their attractive leaves, will steadily beautify your home every day in the year without interruption. And that is why green plants should be the foundation of houseplant groupings.

MOST POPULAR of foliage plants, because of their durability, are philodendron and the ivies, of which there are several good varieties. The stiff leaves of sanseveia combine well with these in a foliage arrangement. Chinese evergreen is another popular plant and so is porthos.

In large, dramatic plants, the big current favorites are the cutleaf philodendron and the fiddleleaf rubber plant. These, in tubs or in big ceramics, really do things for any room. One of their most attractive features is the ability to flourish without sunshine. However, even plants that "need no sun" appreciate it if you occasionally get them in a sunny spot for a few hours.

Homemakers need very little briefing on the care of house plants. Just get plants suited to the amount of light they will receive. Water them when they need it. And that means when the topsoil in the pot is bone dry. Keep the soil moist, but don't overwater.

Q. MY AFRICAN violets are wilting. Why?

A. There are other possible causes. but we find it's usually because they are watered too heavily.

Q. What kind of fertilizer is good for house plants?

A. Nearly all of the popular brands, I'd say. But I must warn you that the time to fertilize house plants is in spring and summer when they get lots of sunshine. Plants can't handle a shot in the arm during the dim days of the year. If they respond at all, they do so by growing leggy, tall and weak.

Q. What is the best way to keep foliage free of dust?

A. The best — and easiest — way to "dust" foliage plants is by spraying them with one of the new "gloss" liquids such as Floraglow. These compounds, applied by spraying or wiping, instantly remove dust and give the leaves a most attractive luster. It is highly important that you keep your green-plants free of grime and dust so that they can "breathe." Only clean plants are healthy plants.

Make It Yourself

Subject: Hobby Show

"Gentle People!" ... Remember that descriptive phrase in a recent popular song? I think it applies so aptly to those who put on the show - to the hobbyists - and to that segment of the public who came to view ... all on the search for "constructive beauty" in one form or another ... One lady assured me she had absolutely "no talent" - but had the ability to enjoy all the creative abilities of others ... Isn't that a talent in itself -? A talent for Living? .. Talked to lots of school teachers, ever on the alert for Make-It-Yourself ideas for the small fry ...Many have worked with papier mache in the "pulp" - instead of hollow castings - the technique I used for my "Little Ladies."

This was the first time the mannequins had ever been exhibited outside the Studio ... and I was very gratified with the appreciative comment ... I spent practically a whole year in making 14 of them ... have 13 left, after sending one to Mamie Dowd Eisenhower. Everyone was interested in her "thank-you" letter .. she seems to be a very popular First Lady.

I heard of no losses or casualties connected with the show, except the one experienced by my next-door neighbors ... Bob Barker offered to try out for me a new ceramic bowl mold. It was in two pieces and awkward to handle and the slip-up came in returning the "slip" after the shell had formed ... Nice and splashy! ...Good thing the stuff brushes off when dry ... The "Barker Ceramic Bells" are cute as can be and want to stock them in the Studio to go along with the rest of the Christmas decorations.

Last week, I made a $10 gift suggestion for "little girl" (the perfect doll-house) and now I have one for "big girl" ... Honestly, I feel sorry for most husbands come Christmas time! They are born sentimentalists - and would really like to surprise the little woman, Christmas morning. But what happens? ... If it is a really "Big" gift, they know darned well they'd better consult - or they will make the wrong choice ... so a "surprise" is out of the question. And even on small gifts, the little woman can out-shop them two-to-one! She looks for value - no nonsense and no danger of getting "sold" by some smart shop-girl ... The guy probably ends up by giving money or a check - and he sighs because she must always be so practical - and she sighs and wishes he were a better shopper!

I have a very special "Special" - and it's for the eyes of gentlemen only! ...It's a luxury item - yet one of the few - that 99 women out of 100 regard as a necessity - and will buy for themselves, several times during the course of a year ... Take my word for it, as an experienced shopper - the value can't be beat and after the few I have on hand are gone, the $10 price can't be duplicated ... I'll lay it away so that it will make a real surprise - and I'll guarantee she'll be pleased.

Starting October 4, we are having craft-art classes in the afternoons from 1:30 to 3:30. On Mondays, "experimental" art (more about this later), on Wednesdays, Christmas decorations, and small gifts out of scraps and all sorts of materials, on Fridays ... Minimum registration, 6 lessons for $5 in advance. Classes limited.

State Aid Cut Means Big Loss To All Schools

Failure by the state government to pay full amounts of the 1953 and 1954 State Aid School Claims will cost the parents and children of Cook Country vital educational services at a time when they can least afford the loss, Noble J. Puffer, Cook County Superintendent of Schools, reported today.

A loss of $869,562.71 to the educational fund of the suburban schools will result from payments by the state of only 98% and 91% respectively of the $173 per pupil State Aid Claims to be paid in school year 1954 and 1955, on the "foundational program."

"These losses translate directly into fewer teachers, supplies and services not only for the school districts of suburbon Cook County but also for the city of Chicago," said Mr. Puffer, "and they occur at a time when the present number of teachers is inadequate to meet growing enrollments. The children and parents of Cook County and Illinois cannot afford these losses in opportunities which the reduction will cause."

Total claims from Cook County's 162 suburban school districts for 1953, reported Mr. Puffer were $6,052,866.62. State aid payments at 98% will result in a loss of $123,391.16. The claim for 1954 is estimated at $8,290,794.76. State payments at only 91% will result in a loss to school operating budgets of $746,171.55.

"The schools have made up budgets in which every penny counts, and the loss of two percent of our 1953 payments in a very econmical tight budget is serious indeed to all schools, suburban, Chicago and downstate," said Mr. Puffer.

"Now, facing a 9% reduction in state and for our school, in the second year of the biennium," Mr. Puffer continued, "money which we had counted on to finance school expenditures will not be paid and a crisis is created all over the state and particulary in Cook County. A loss of 9% is a crippling amount of money in any budget and especially to our overcrowded, hard-pressed districts.

Among the smaller duties of life, I hardly know any one more important than that of not praising where praise is not due.

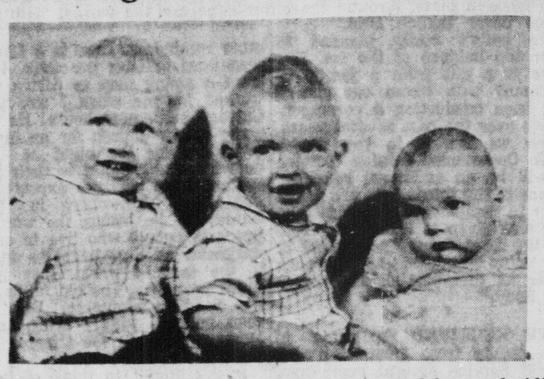
Presenting The Younger Generation



Brothers And Baby Sister

All three youngsters have blond hair and blue eyes. Three-year-old Daniel and two-year old Jeffrey have similar interests.

Indoors both boys like to play with trains, look through books play children's records on the phonograph and watch TV.

They have fun outdoors playing in their sand box and riding their tricycles. Daniel and Jeffrey love to go to the farm to visit their aunt and uncle and see all the animals.

Both lads have favorite blankets and big pandas that they like to take to bed with them.

They are very fond of their baby sister, who is six months old. Patricia likes to play in her play pen and ride in the family car.

The children's grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Frank Einweck of Chicago and Mr. and Mrs. William Schoepke Sr. of Arlington Heights.

Up Compensation For Some Veterans

Nearly 116,000 Illinois veterans and certain dependents of deceased veterans will receive a 5 per cent increase in monthly compensation and pension payments effective October 1, 1954, under two bills signed by the president August 28.

Flat increases in excess of 5 per cent were granted to widows and dependent parents of wartime veterans whose deaths were attributable to service.

Dance To Benefit Braille Classroom At Wheeling

Dance to Benefit Braille

Pictured above is Wheeling Consolidated school in which the braille classroom will be housed. This classroom will hold all special equipment needed for educating a blind child and service from 9 to 10 school districts in the northwest area.

The blind student spends most of his early years in the braille classroom and then as he reaches the upper grades, he will gradually attend classes with the sighted children.

Wheeling braille school is dependent upon civic organizations for funds to buy the special equipment, which is government priority, and furnishings needed for the classroom. Schools are first on the priority list and are followed by veteran hospitals. In each school district where a blind pupil resides, the state of Illinois will pay the normal per pupil cost to the Wheeling school.

Seventh district junior clubs plan a benefit dance, "Autumn Sights" tomorrow night, Friday, at Medinah Country club. Proceeds from this dance will go toward buying special equipment needed for the new braille classroom. Dancing will be to the music of Rags Ragland of Northwestern university from 9:30 to 12:20 a.m. This band was one of three college bands throughout the country selected to tour Europe this summer.

Seventh district clubs participating in the project are the Junior Woman's club, Des Plaines, Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club and Edison Park Junior Woman's club.

For tickets contact Mrs. R. E. Hauptly, Arlington Heights Junior Woman's club project chairman at Clearbrook 3-4807 or Mrs. H. F. Busse, seventh district project chairman at Clearbrook 3-5119.

In the Shadow of + + + The Steeple

by William O. McGill

The communion set will be unmatched next Sunday when the plates bearing the symbolic broken body of the Lord Jesus are passed in our church. Among the shiny metal plates, there will be one wooden plate. Around the outer edge are the words, "Gib uns heute unser taglich Brot."

We hadn't really planned to alter the balance of the set. The plate is a gift from a family in Germany with whom our church has been conducting a correspondence over the past several years. When we use it in the World-Wide Communion Sunday service it will be an additional reminder of one of the things "we are gratefully to remember" that this Supper was given to Christian people by the Lord Jesus "as a bond of our union with Him and with each other as members of His mystical Body."

WE RECEIVED the name of this family from Inter-Church World Service several years ago. Since then we have sent food and clothing to them. We have received letters and pictures of the family. Some of our folks know them by name and age and size. We make conjectures about the problems of their daily life. We feel confident of the unity in the Spirit which unites us one to the other.

Such tokens of unity were probably in the minds of those pioneers of the world fellowship of Christians who were responsible for the development of World-Wide Communion Sunday some years ago.

ONE INEVITABLY thinks of other reminders. Here is a Christmas card still on my desk. It is from a young man in Africa who worked for me when I was in a Chicago settlement house. He had come to our church for an installation service the night he was called to the hospital — their premature baby was not expected to live. Now, somewhere in the Cameroun, he brings the word of grace to people who live in semi-darkness. As they begin to awake to the modern world, they gave great problems. The old faiths are not readily adaptable. But this man and his family bring knowledge of faith in the Creator and Sustainer of His people.

It is difficult to think of being united to millions of other Christian people A family in Germany, a family in Africa, another here and there, these are tokens of our union with Him and with each other which help us to understand that none is an island entire unto itself.

Disability Info' About New Social Security Act

People who have been disabled and unable to work for at least six months are not eligible to have the period of their disability eliminated in figuring their social security benefits until January 1, 1955, according to Ellen McGuire, district manager of the social security administration, 5306 W. Lawrence ave., Chicago. Numerous inquiries about this provision of the new social security amendments have been made at the district office.

Both younger wage earners and those already sixty-five and receiving benefits will gain an advantage by filing for the disability determination next year. Applications can be accepted in January, 1955 but the disability must still exist on July 1, 1955 when the first determination can be used in figuring a benefit.

To be eligible for the disability determination a person must have had at least five years employment under social security and at least 1½ years of it must have been during the three years just before he became disabled. The disability can be physical or mental, but must be of a kind that prevents substantial gainful work and is medically determinable; that is, can be diagnosed by a physician.

The person himself or someone acting for him should contact the district office after January 1, 1955. The 5306 West Lawrence avenue office serves people living north of Belmont and west of Pulaski road in Chicago.

At Grinnell

Fred Heiberger of 1111 Watling Rd., Arlington Heights, is enrolled at Grinnell college for the 1954-1955 year.

Heiberger, a freshman at Grinnell, is a graduate of Arlington Heights Township high school.

In Illinois

Diplomas for University of Illinois degrees earned during the summer session will be mailed about October 15 to 703 persons.

The diplomas include 242 for the bachelor's degree and 461 for advanced degrees. By coincidence, same as a year ago.

Because there is no commencement ceremony at the close of the summer session, diplomas cannot be handed out at that time, but instead are mailed later when prepared and ready.

Included among those to receive diplomas were Bruce D. Kampf, 800 Oakton street, Arlington Heights, who will receive a master of education; and William H. Beaver, 335 Arlington road, Itasca, bachelor of science.

In Hawaii

Army Cpl. Ted Ciepley, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Ciepley, Coolidge and Elm rd., Palatine, was recently transferred from the 3d infantry division to the 25th infantry division, now in the process of leaving Korea for Schofield barracks, Hawaii.

The 25th "Tropic Lightning" division, which has seen more combat in Korea than any other American unit, arrived on the peninsula in July 1950, shortly after the Communist invasion.

Corporal Ciepley completed basic training at Fort Riley, Kan., and arrived in Korea last October.

In Greenland

Airman second class Rudy A. Vergin, son of Mr. and Mrs. R. Vergin, 19 N. Pine st., Mount Prospect, is now stationed at Thule A.F. base in Greenland, after being stationed for the last two years at Presque Isle A. F. base in Maine.

Rudy will be at Thule for the next ten months, during which time he would enjoy hearing from old friends and neighbors.

His address is: A 2 c R. A. Vergin, A.F. 16392503, 74th Ftr. Incpt. Sqd., A.P.O. 23 % P.M., New York, N. Y.

In Missouri

Pvt. Wayne O. Hildebrand, 23, son of Mr. and Mrs. Tom H. Hildebrand, 527 Mayfair rd., Arlington Heights, recently completed the army's basic medical equipment maintenance course at the St. Louis (Mo.) medical depot.

Hildebrand was trained in the installation and repair of medical equipment. He had earlier completed a course in basic medical training at Brooks medical center, Fort Sam Houston, Tex.

A member of Alpha Delta Psi fraternty, Hildebrand graduated from Miami university in Oxford, Ohio, before entering the army in February, 1953.

In Florida

Lt. Dale T. Kincaid of Palatine has terminated a two year stint in the USAF at Eglin AFB, Florida. He has gone directly to the University of Florida where he will work for his master's degree in architecture.

Tom was on Tdy this summer to participate in water ski meets in New York and New Hampshire and Florida. In the Nationals Tom came in 12th, his team capturing 6th place.

Prospect Meadows

Auxiliary Meets

Prospect Meadows Women's auxiliary resumed its monthly meetings at Mount Prospect village hall, September 22. Activities were scheduled for another month. Progressive games enabled everyone to become acquainted with their neighbors. After many hilarious games, prizes were awarded. Mrs. Doralees Morales won first prize, which was fancy guest towels. Next meeting of the group will be October 27.

Scout News

Initial meeting of the Brownie troop took place September 21, sixteen children from the Meadows met with girls from Wedgewood Terrace at the home of Mrs. Revus, 201 Euclid. The troop being organized will be a charter troop. The following Thursday, mothers of the new Brownies met to discuss problems and plans for the new group. Mrs. Smith from the Arlington council gave a talk on scouting. Arrangements were made to have the school buses let the children off at their meeting place and the mothers have formed a car pool to take the girls home. A committee was formed including three mothers from Prospect Meadows: Mrs. LeForge, Mrs. Werheim and Mrs. Finch, to help guide the troop. After the business of the day everyone enjoyed refreshments of coffee and cake.

Mrs. Doroyth Doyle gave a tea for intermediate Scouts last Saturday. Plans were set for the entire year with emphasis on badge work. First meeting of the season took place last Wednesday. Mrs. Finch gave instruction on crosheting to enable Scouts to earn their second class badges.

Strictly for Fun

Plans originating at the September meeting of Prospect Meadows Women's auxiliary have been developed for a Halloween party for the "grown-up children" of the Meadows. The committee in charge included Gloria Campbell, chairman, Arlette Klein, Chris Pelletier, Anh Incinelli, Marilyn Peregrine and Ethel Larson. October 23 has been set as the date, 8:30 p.m. the time, and the American Legion hall, Arlington Heights, is the place. The "Halloween Shindig" will be a costume party. Games and prizes will be on the program, and, of course, dancing.

Children of the Meadows have not been forgotten. Our annual costume parade is being planned not been completely worked out as yet. Olga Goodwin, chairman of the parade committee, promises to have more information next week.

Congratulations

Mr. and Mrs. John Sell, Larkdale lane, celebrated their eighth wedding anniversary September 21.

Sunday, was a big day for tiny Kristine Ann Larson, daughter of the Kenneth Larsons of Foundry road. She was baptized at St. Marks Lutheran church, Mount Prospect. Mr. and Mrs. Alex Grasmick, Dalton, Ill. were her sponsors and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Larson were in attendance.

News of Elk Grove

School News

Mr. Cavallo, superintendent, has invited the families of the staff and the board of education to his home at Williams Bay, Wis., for a day's outing Sunday, October 10. This will be a potluck style day with plenty of food and fun for all and should really get everyone better acquainted. Mrs. Chappelear, Mr. Turner and Mr. Case are in charge of arrangements.

Student Council

Maria Ortiz, newly elected Student Council secretary reports the following:

The Student Council officers of Elk Grove school were elected September 23. Seventh and eighth graders cast their ballots for the following officers: Egon Kosel, president; Judy Wille, vice-president; Maria Ortiz, secretary and Lois Landmeier, treasurer. The Student Council has done many fine things for the school in the past and has many more things planned for this coming year. Our congratulations to this fine slate of officers and everyone will give them their wholehearted support.

Baseball Game

The team lost their opener with Prospect Heights September 21. They played the St. James team here, Tuesday.

Rummage Sale

The Mothers' Club of Elk Grove will hold a rummage sale this Friday, at 7 p. m. in the school basement. Rummage may be sent with the students or brought to the school up to Friday noon, October 1. Any items will be appreciated.

Locals

Mrs. Kenneth Cook is home after a short stay in the hospital.

Mrs. Ray Christie is home after undergoing surgery at Resurrection hospital.

The Ryder girl is still in the hospital recovering from an automobile accident which occurred on Oakton st. a few weeks ago.

Gordon Folkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. Vance L. Folkman, Meyer rd., celebrated his fourth birthday, which was September 27, with a party for several of his little friends Saturday. His sister, Patti, who is in the sixth grade at Elk Grove school, was among the 70 boys and girls who were confirmed at St. Raymond Catholic church Sunday evening. Mrs. Albert Klein of Arlington Heights, her great aunt, was her sponsor.

Wilson Community

Community club is planning a Hallowe'en dance to be held at Bill's Buffalo house, Buffalo Grove, October 30, 8 p.m. Tickets are available from Art Schroeder, Louise Maierhoefer, or any Community club member. Proceeds from this dance will be used for playground equipment for the blacktop court. These dances are well attended, everyone has a good time, and a special invitation is extended to newcomers in the district.

Mrs. Marian Schanmier entertained her sorority last week at her home with a "Roaring Twenties" party, each member being dressed in the attire of those famous days. Attic trunks were raided for the occasion and the affair was a big success.

Children buying milk at school under the Federal and State milk program are reminded to bring 50 cents this week for their October milk, which is always payable in advance.

Children will have one holiday this month, October 15, when the teachers will attend the Illinois Education association meeting.

Next regular meeting of the Board of Education will be held October 5.

First Train

On May 24, 1830, the first train drawn by a steam engine rolled down 12 miles of track on the B. & O.

Arlington Crest News

Birthday Greetings

Birthday greetings to Barbara Taylor September 27.

Tickets for Arlington Crest annual dance will be ready and given out within the next few days. The date is October 23 at Fred's Place.

Don't forget the township meeting at the Village hall in Palatine. The date is October 4, at 8 p.m.

There is still a small amount due for the mosquito spraying. Will those who have let it slip by please send their contribution so the account can be settled? It can be brought or mailed to any of the Civic association officers.

Suffers Injury

Best wishes for a speedy recovery go to Mrs. John Martin's father, Mr. Douglas, who fell 20 feet off a ladder last week and broke his spine.

Mr. and Mrs. John Shillington and family and Mr. and Mrs. Al. Shillington and family enjoyed Sunday dinner at the Charles Shillingtons' in Chicago.

Marguerite Dietrich, Reporter CLearbrook 3-2793

Wedgewood Terrace News

Since it had been heard that there were some special kind of cookies for health purposes available at the Zion Illinois cookie factory, Mrs. Joe Warfsman, Mrs. Joseph De Pasquale, Mrs. Arthur Cisewski, Mrs. Tom Merritt, and Mrs. Leo Cook took their small children last week and traveled there to see for themselves. They had many samples, and found what they wanted. They also lunched in Waukegan.

Guests of Cisewskis Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Mech and Marva Jean, Jeff and Paul from Chicago. Jeff and Louanne were born at the same time in the hospital where their mothers became acquainted and it has become a fast friendship.

Where to Register Oct. 5 And Why

"Register to vote, so that you can register your vote for reapportionment."

Supporters of the Blue Ballot Reapportionment Amendment are using this slogan in their statewide campaign to register as many voters as possible before the deadline of October 4 in most parts of the state.

November 2nd might be the most important election in the history of Illinois, for at stake is our whole system of representative government. Every one qualified to vote, whether interested in the political races or not, should definitely register and vote on the Blue Ballot.

The Reapportionment Amendment, which will appear in the first column of the left hand side of the Blue Ballot, provides for the first remapping of the state's legislative districts in half a century. It is a compromise plan that safeguards the interests of downstate, Chicago and the suburban towns of Cook county.

It is being supported by both political parties and almost every civic organization in the state.

Way Back When

"Our Aim: To Fear God, Tell The Truth, and Make Money."—H. C. Paddock, 1898-1935

Happenings 10, 20, 30, 40, And 50 Years Ago This Week

Fifty Years Ago

September 30, 1904

George Kirchoff, 49, South Wheeling, was killed with an employee September 27 when a tree being cut on his tract of 27 acres of timber in Lake county crashed down on top of them. He became the fourth member of his family to die a sudden and unexpected death, following his father and two brothers.

Julius Flentie, Arlington Heights, has married a Hinsdale girl, Louisa Graue. Ceremonies were September 25 at the Hinsdale Lutheran church.

Only Democrats And Republicans On State Ballot In November

For the first time in 82 years — since 1872 — only two political parties will appear on the ballot this year for the general election on November 2, Secretary of State Charles F. Carpentier said.

The list of names of parties which appeared in the past is almost a cross-section of American history for the last 100 years. They include: American, Free Soil, Greenback, Independent Democrat, Liberal, Liberty, Peoples, Prohibition, Progressive, Socialist, Socialist Labor, Union, Union Progressive and Whig.

Radar Control May Be Installed In Des Plaines

A city council committee of Des Plaines will study the possibility of securing radar to enable Des Plaines police to better patrol local highways against speeders.

It is claimed that a squad car could be equipped properly for less than $1100. The set judges speed within two miles per hour and furnishes a speed tape which can be introduced in court as evidence.

Fast Drivers

Can something be done about drivers in Mount Prospect who turn side streets into expressways? While most children do not—and should not— make a habit of playing in the street, they do forget sometimes and dart across without looking both ways. Why do drivers travel at 35 m. p.h. on a side street?

My own small son, who is under two years of age, was almost hit by one of these "maniac expressway drivers" last week. Despite all my efforts and as it is with almost all children of that age, my child will still wander across the street if he sees something interesting to explore. Such was the case last week. He saw some children to play with on the other side of the street, and started across. The driver zoomed around the corner onto our street, almost hit my son, and didn't even slow down his excessive speed. He merely honked his horn, as if such a small toddler would have sense enough to move out of the great man's way! It is by the grace of God that my son is still alive, as he was missed by inches.

THE MAN was evidentally in a tremendous hurry to return home to his own family. Would he have liked to put another man's child in the hospital, or worse, just to see his children five minutes sooner?

It seems to me that a driver who needs to travel 35 m.p.h. could do so on a through street. When driving my own car, I make it a practice not to exceed 20 or, at the most 25, m.p.h. and am constantly on the alert to stop, not honk my horn, when I see a child near the street. How about it, drivers of Mt. Prospect?

An Angry Mother

The gate receipts at football and basketball games must pay for all expenses of the athletic department, including gym classes, except salaries of the men and women instructors and coaches. Above scene from Friday night's Maine game at Arlington indicates the difference of receipts from daytime games as shown elsewhere on this page with Palatine and Ela-Vernon opponents. —Staff Photo.

Palatine won, but the crowd pictured above gives an idea of the gate receipts lost in daytime games with Palatine playing at Ela-Vernon Saturday afternoon. Compare the size of the crowd with the scene from a night game at Arlington Friday, elsewhere on this page.

Camel Trip into Desert

by CALVIN GAARE, Palatine

One's first glimpse of Algiers with all its white buildings nestled in the bay is rather breathtaking.

I spent the first three days in the city itself, swimming in the Mediterranean, visiting the Palace of the daughter of an old Sultan, roaming thru the museum of the Foreign Legion, and wandering thru the colorful and tumultuous sights and sounds amidst the narrow windy passageways and native bazaars of the Casbah. I visited three of the Mosques in Algiers, having to remove my shoes on entering.

The Moslem religion is certainly interesting. They must pray five times a day on their little rugs and face Mecca. Before they pray they must perform their ablutions, washing their face, hands and feet. If they are out in the desert they use sand instead of water. Moslems cannot eat any pork or drink any alcoholic beverages in their homes. If they pray five times a day and go to Mecca once during their life time, they are practically assured of a good seat in the here after.

At first one is afraid to go out in the streets alone. All the veiled women and Arabs with their flowing robes and fezes lend a very mysterious air to the city.

I met an Arab at the hotel who volunteered to show me the nite life of the city. The first place we visited was Le Sphinx where we all sat cross-legged on rugs and pillows and native dancers went thru their gyrations in front of us while we sipped mint tea.

I left Algiers at 5:00 Tuesday morning via bus to go to Bou Saada one of the largest Oasis in North Africa and sort of an outpost before the great Sahara. What a horrible experience. I was the only American on this bus with all the Arabs and did it stink. Wow! The Arab sitting next to me was carrying two dead chickens. He got off at a little village, but to my dismay his seat was then taken by an Arab that got on carrying a newly born lamb all covered with slime and which "baaed" all the way out. The scenery was magnificent, though.

We passed thru the Atlas Mountains on the most treacherous one way road imaginable. One slip by the driver and we would all have had it. The Alps are certainly higher and the drive along Amalfi and Sorrento in southern Italy just as winding, but for a treacherous and really fearsome drive this was the ultimate. We then passed thru the Col des Deux Bassins, the village of Aumale, the Col de Derah, the oil refinery at Sidi-Aissa, the small villages of Aim-El-Jadjel, and Aim-Kermane and were then out on the desert. Needless to say the heat was unbearable. The only sign of civilization is the one narrow dirt road with the electric power line along side of you. You pass camel caravans, sheep herders, nomads, sand dunes, sand, sand, and more sand, and the temperature goes up, up, up.

We finally arrived at Boa Saada in the afternoon. First I visited the Ksar or "outdoor shopping center." Then I roamed around the oasis picking figs off the trees, eating the sweetest and biggest grapes I've ever seen, marvelling at the stately date palms with their huge clusters of dates ripening at the top, and looking at the quince and pomegranate trees. If you can imagine what the Garden of Eden must have been like, it surely must resemble this oasis.

In the evening a guide took me to see the native dancers of Ouled-Nails. To the pulstering rhythmic music of a flute and tom-tom I witnessed the most erotic dances imaginable by these dusky skin native girls.

I arranged with the guide to go further in the desert for the next two days so the following morning my guide on one camel, I on another and two pack mules set out in the Sahara. I really must have been a sight bouncing across the Sahara in my levis and Northwestern sweatshirt with a fez and G.I. towel wrapped around my head for protection from the sun. I bounced up and down, back and forth in that blazing sun with a rather strong wind blowing the sand in my ears, hair, eyes, mouth, etc., until I didn't think I could stand it any longer. At noon we rested in the shadow of a sand dune for about an hour, ate a little and then continued on until 6:00 when we reached a small oasis with three palm trees, a few cacti and a little trickle of water from a spring. Never in my life have I more appreciated seeing a tree than I did that evening.

We made camp here and the guide cooked a supper of some sort of lamb stew and a doughy paste.

That nite on the oasis tho' I shall always remember. The moon was full, the stars as bright as the moon; my guide was playing his flute and it was just as tho' we were about 2000 years back in time. I almost expected Mary and Joseph to pop up behind the next sand dune. I really dreaded the thought of that ride back the next day, but we arose early and set off about 6:00 in the morning and bumped our way back in that scorching and never relenting sun.

Was I a putrid mess. Sweated thru all over, smelling like a camel, sand in every conceivable place, I staggered in the small hotel that nite at Boa Saada.

The next day I took the interminable seven hour bus ride back to Algiers and finally got cleaned up again unaware of the next adventure that was to befall me.

As I stepped out of the hotel in Algiers I met this same guy who showed me around Algiers one of the first nites I was there. He invited me to his house for lunch. Not knowing what to expect but not wanting to embarrass him by refusing his bona fide invitation, I accepted. He took me to his home in the Casbah. Here in three small rooms, the largest one about 6 by 9, live his mother and father, his five sisters, and two brothers. They were quite awed by the presence of an American in the middle of the Casbah and besides that here I was right in their own home. I was as strange to them as tho' an Arab suddenly appeared on Michigan Avenue on top of a camel. I soon became good friends with the entire family.

They called me their Pasha and made me sit on a little couch with pillows stacked behind me while they fed me figs, grapes and other assorted fruits and mint tea and Moka. Communication was very difficult since they only spoke French and Arabic and only the one son spoke a little English. But between his English and my little French we did fairly well. They insisted I stay for supper because they were having Koushkush, a pasty sort of dish with tomato peelings, hot peppers, lamb bones and this doughy goo again. We ate in shifts since they only had three plates and had to eat with our hands, all the time squatting on the floor since they had no furniture. After dinner I sat like a yogi from seven until ten sipping mint tea and trying to tell them about America.

They all wanted to know if I knew Yvonne de Carlo, Joe Louis, Johnny Weismueller — how many stories tall the buildings are,— are the Indians bad in Texas— could they become movie stars— did I have a car--etc. They were really amusing but very sincere.

I was about to go back to the hotel for the nite but they wouldn't think of it. They insisted I spend the nite there so the 11 of us slept on sheep skins

JUST AROUND THE CORNER

FROM PATTY McARDLE

Dear Peg:

We have been spending at least part of almost every weekend at Manapisu Farm, for the past couple of months. It's been so nice to look forward, during the busy week, to a couple of days of pleasant relaxation in the country. Of course, to Megan and Bridget "relaxation in the country" means riding their gentle pony Mike, making as many expeditions to the hayloft as they can get their Uncle Ed to lead, swinging, sliding and trapezing and playing in the sand box and in the clump of lilac bushes which serves as a playhouse.

Although the day was warm and sunny, there was a hint of autumn in the air as we drove to the farm last Saturday. It's exciting to see the mist veiling the distant hills and the leaves beginning to yellow and to smell pungent, dry scent of corn shocks and pumpkins. Yet, Indian summer is a wistful time, for it lingers only long enough for winter to catch up bringing with it the icy highways and drifted country roads that mean an end to our weekends at the farm.

BEFORE WE LEFT Richmond, one of the towns through which we pass as we follow route 173, the girls and I suggested that we stop at Anderson's for candy. Inside of Mr. Anderson's old, two story house, with its small counter just inside the front door, is to be found the most delicious candy I've ever eaten. We are especially fond of the chocolate covered cinnamon sticks and the chocolate crunchy, green mintbars. The English toffee and fudge are also out of this world!

I asked Bob, whose company supplies boxes for Mr. Anderson, why he didn't expand and get himself a big candy store, knowing that people come from all over to buy his candy. Bob said that he has as much business as he wants, considering that he has a great mail order clientele.

A little while and a few cinnamon sticks later, we arrived at Manapisu and turned into the driveway which runs between "main house" and the "studio" and down to the garage and "Children's House." I couldn't help commenting to Bob as we drove in that Manapisu's grounds and buildings have never looked as beautiful as they have this summer. The small willows have grown into green, full swaying trees, the lilac bushes have grown tall and thick and various kinds of flowers flourish along the fence line. Since Mother McA fell in love with the Comanche petunia this year, a broad row of brilliant red runs along the base of the white barn and the little white frame "studio," and borders the rose garden just outside the kitchen window of "main house."

AS WE STOPPED and got out of the car, Gramma and Grampa came to meet us. Where once Megan and Bridget wanted only to stay in their grandparents' arms and, to the delight of the grandparents, be kissed, hugged and entertained, now poor Gramma and Grampa are lucky to get even a perfunctory kiss in passing, as the girls race from the car to their gym set or into the barn to see the pony.

It's wonderful to see Megan having absolutely no fear of horses and it's wonderful to know that she is safe with the animals—they are quite tame and gentle since they've always had Papa or the boys near them to feed and care for them. In fact they are so tame that Jack had no difficulty at all the first time he put a saddle on the young mare, Kate, and now, just a couple of months later, I'm riding her and having a delightful time.

WE WERE ALL sitting on the terrace chatting and catching up on each other's news when we saw Megan, dressed in her jeans and red boots emerge from "Children's House" and come toward us obviously looking for someone to saddle up Mike. Feeling fairly certain that Uncle Ed could be prevailed upon, she approached him and he agreed to get Mike ready for her. Off they went to the barn with Bridget tagging along behind and in a few minutes, we saw Eddie lead Mike out into the barnyard with Megan and Bridget on her back. Bridget's desire to ride is easily satisfied and very shortly she wanted down. Then Megan, sitting up very straight and looking very tiny, rode around the barnyard unaided.

After dinner, in the evening, we went downstairs to the recreation room and saw slides of the short trip that the family took to the Black Hills recently. The weekend was so warm and lovely that we spent most of the time outdoors and ate all our meals on the terrace sitting around the big picnic table. How fortunate we are to have so restful and pleasant a place to go to and such loving parents to visit when we get there.

My love,
Patty.

About Glenbrook

We are all proud of Glenbrook high school - its staff, its spirit, and its appearance. We all want to keep this pride in our school. We will always have to be vigilant to see that external influences do not come in to disrupt our magnificent new school.

We are now faced with this external threat in the form of a promotional industrial development on 42 acres of land across from the high school.

The matter is now being decided by the Cook county zoing board of appeals as to whether they will permit the rezoning of this land from farming to light industry.

AT THE PUBLIC hearing last Friday, among other witnesses, a real estate expert stated this land was suitable for residences. In fact, a citizen of Glenbrook high school district testified he tried to purchase part of this land for his own use as residential property. The owner now trying to sell the land for industrial use refused to sell at that time.

Gentlemen of the Northbrook board, you can help the citizens of high school district 225. You can tell the zoning board that this area, in your master plan, is earmarked as residential.

* * *

IN 1953 we spent long hours as co-chairmen of the Glenbrook high school citizens public relations committee. We were interested then in the school. Although the work of this committee was completed when our high school opened, as individual citizens we are interested now that the school and its surrounding area be of the highest calibre.

Thank You

The tremendous impact of the Marian Year Tribute at Soldier Field will be long remembered by so many thousands from all parts of Chicago and the surrounding areas. For me personally, one of these memories will be your kindness and cooperation in publicizing this event and making possible the great outpouring of religious faith which His Eminence Samuel Cardinal Stritch wanted it to be.

Allow me to offer my thanks as well as genuine appreciation for all that you did.

QUITE CONTRARY

BY MARY

At the risk of sounding hearts and flowerish, we have found someone who puts tolerance to work. We have tried to feel that we could accept any person in the world regardless of race or color or religion. When put to the test we felt that we passed with a fairly high grade. We have tried to teach our children that color of skin is only color of skin.

While snatching a minute to get caught up on the world of women, we read an article written by a minister's wife telling how she acquired her 12 children that nobody wanted. As they were unable to have any youngsters of their own, they proceeded to adopt children from all over the world of mixed parentage. We are certainly not going to tell you the story of her life. Read it yourself, kiddies, and see what tolerance really is.

For years when one of our young asked us who our favorite movie star was, we swooningly squealed, "Clark Gable." This brought sneers of derision in our direction. We were told that it certainly dated us to like such an old decrepit man. Why couldn't we fasten our affections on someone really good like Bob Wagner or Tony Curtis?

All this was before the reissue of "Gone With The Wind." Now that our oldest has sat enthralled through the romantic adventures of Scarlett and Rhett she is on our team. The old lady is right, he is quite wonderful. We have decided not to tell her how long ago the picture first came out. We like basking in this air of approval.

Just as we begin to get used to the cool fall weather, summer gives with its last dying gasp. One minute we are getting the ski pants out of the attic and the next we are rescuing the shorts from the same place. In short, the weather is making us nervous. We have alternate spurts of winter energy and summer lethargy. Makes the family sort of jumpy too. They don't know from one day to the next whether they are going to have roast pork or cold cuts and potato salad. And neither do we.

For the growing family here is a home at minimum cost yet having the possibilities of being adequate for a large family. Located in the Northwest Section of Arlington Heights close to Ridge School and High School. This immaculate home has a carpeted living room with dining "L"; full basement; gas heat; alum storms & screens; 2 car garage.

3 BEDROOMS
BRICK & STONE CAPE COD
$22,250

Located just a few blocks from the tri-school area of Arlington Heights South Side. This home features a 12'x24' living room; a 12'x12' dining room; a kitchen with eating space; a 10x10' downstairs bedroom or den; ceramic bath; 2nd floor has 2 twin size bedrooms & full tile bath; full basement; Mueller Gas Warm Air Heat. It's a real buy and offered by a transferred owner anxious to sell.

2 BEDROOM
BRICK RANCH
$17,500

Located on the Northwest side of Arlington Heights this unusually well designed ranch has a carpeted living room 16'x18'; 2 twin size bedrooms; a vanity bath & dinette with beautiful bay overlooking garden. Adequate utility room; gas heat; one car garage; ideal for small family. Approximately $5,000 Down.

SMALL ESTATE
2 BEDROOM RANCH
$21,750

For the Flower gardener a delightful 100'x213' landscaped lot with fruit and shade trees. Located in Prospect Heights this home has a carpeted living room 14'x18' with fireplace; full dining room; 2 bedrooms 11'x13' and 11'x11'; tile bath; kitchen with breakfast space; 1½ car garage.

3 BEDROOM RANCH
2 FULL BATHS
$26,500

Located in one of Arlington Heights top residential areas this lovely ranch on a 100' lot has a carpeted liv. room with fireplace; full dining room opening to a screened porch. The master bedroom unusually large 13½'x24' could serve as an activities room or living room for an in-law or member of family seeking privacy. Kitchen with breakfast space. 2 car garage—a real spacious home at an unbelieveably low price.

4 BEDROOM
FACE BRICK ENGLISH TUDOR
$27,500

This home approximately 14 years old and built of fine quality materials such as copper gutters and downspouts, asbestos shingle roof will give the large family load of room not only for sleeping but for living. You could serve your Thanksgiving dinner and invite all the relatives and not even feel crowded in the 13'x17' dining room. Large kitchen with eating space for the children (reminds me of the good old days on the farm). 2½ baths, 2 car garage. Better not wait if you need a house for 5 or 6 children and don't want a large old run down place that would cost as much as we are asking for this one.

Camel Trip —

that nite in these three small rooms. All of us were fully clothed except for shoes which were always removed upon entering the home. They only have one set of clothes apiece and so are unable to change from day to day. What a smelly hot nite that was. In that intolerable heat and no windows in the "apartment".

The next day the son and I roamed thru the Casbah. The filth and stink is really sickening. It seeme 50 per cent of the people suffer from some sort of deformity. They either have on leg, are blind, or crippled--and beggars are everywhere.

Little children lie in the streets with what must be syphilis. Anyway big sores are all over their bodies, dripping with puss and crawling with flies. Never have I seen so many flies. They actually form a layer over the entire native quarter. If only I could convey to you the stench, poverty, and filth that exists in the Casbah. No slum district in America can come close to it.

The more industrious people set up little shops and sell figs or a piece of meat covered with flies, or chicken entrails, etc; one guy had a display of old buttons, a rusty razor blade, a cork and a few pieces of glass and was practically regarded as the Marshal Fields of the Casbah.

One sign of civilization is very predominate. About half of the girls dye their hair red being influenced by their demi-goddess Rita Hayworth.

This family I stayed with was so sincere and friendly I hated to bid them au revoir on Saturday evening but I had to get cleaned up because my plane left the next morning for Paris. They all insisted on coming to say goodbye to me tho' so the next morning I arrived at the ultra swank Air France terminal accompanied by six vieled women and four Arabs. Many an eyebrow was raised.

I certainly had a great time in Algeria and will always remember the nite in the Sahara, the Casbah, the palm trees, the filth. the poverty and ignorance of North Africa. I never saw another American all the time I was in Algeria.

Everyone talks about the big earthquake in Orleonsville and they do all they can to help the destitute in that town.

Parts of Algiers are very much like Paris. For dinner one nite at the hotel I had assorted hors d'oeuvres and received 16 kinds of delicious tid bits not one of which I recognized.

Take Your Time Picking Corn — And Live

With corn picking getting under way earlier than usual this year, there's no excuse for inviting accidents by hurrying and taking chances.

Wendell Bowers, University of Illinois agricultural engineer says most corn picker accidents can be traced directly to taking a chance. Because he's taken a chance before and escaped unharmed, the operator may think he can beat the odds indefinitely. But if he keeps on taking risks, some day he'll pay the price.

That's what happened to about two hundred Illinois farmers during the 1953 picking season.

TAKING A CHANCE so that you'll be able to pick another load or finish a field before dark can be costly. To make it even more dangerous, you usually take the most chances when you are tired and don't react so quickly.

When you're thinking about cleaning the picker without stopping it, ask yourself this question: Will the minute or so that's saved pay for a finger or hand that may be lost? Take it easy, says Bowers, and you'll live longer.

Make Your Own Post Treating Plant Here

An eight-foot section of steel culvert with a bottom welded on makes an ideal home post-treating plant. Or you can weld together 2½ steel oil drums for the same purpose.

For easiest post handling, sink the tank below ground level with the top about knee-high, suggests W. F. Bulkley, extension forester at the University of Illinois college of agriculture.

PUT POSTS IN the tank butt end down. Fill the tank with preservative until the posts are completely covered, and let each batch of well-seasoned posts soak for 48 hours. Seasoned pine posts will take up enough preservative in 24 hours.

Hold the posts in the solution with a board lid. Put a section of 2x4 across the lid, and hold the lid down with a half-inch steel bar run through holes in the side of the tank.

LET TREATED posts dry a day or two before you set them. If you want to paint them, let them dry for two to six months before you paint.

Many Illinois farmers are learning at first hand about home post-treating equipment and methods at a series of six district demonstration meetings now being conducted in the state. If you want more information, ask your county farm adviser for a copy of Circular 636, "Preserve your Posts With Penta," or write directly to the College of Agriculture, Urbana.

Starting to reach the market — Leek, kale, cauliflower, late spinach and horseradish.

Anticipated best buys for week of October 4 — Cabbage, carrots, all varieties of table squash, all varieties of peppers, pickling onions, eggplant, dry onions, pumpkins and cauliflower.

Farmers Plan 'Get Out The Vote' Drive

Illinois farmers are starting on a "Get Out the Vote" campaign to get every eligible downstate voter to the polls November 2, Charles B. Shuman, president of the Illinois Agricultural association, said today.

Plans for local campaigns to be carried on by county farm bureau organizations were formed at a series of meetings the last two weeks, Shuman said.

The IAA and the county farm bureaus are sponsoring such a citizenship campaign because the success of a democracy certainly depends upon a high proportion of the population who care enough to participate in government and civic affairs, Shuman declared.

Truck Caravan Of IH Farm Tractors

Arlington Heights was "invaded" by one of the largest single caravans of freight trucks to pass through the city since the end of World War II. Loaded with new Farmall tractors from International Harvester's Farmall Works in Rock Island, the caravan was part of a 22-truck convoy, representing part of a mass delivery of more than 200 new tractors to I.H. dealers in Northern Illinois. J F. Garlisch and Sons of Arlington Heights participated in the shipment.

Christian Science Lecture At Des Plaines

John S. Sammons of Chicago will deliver a public lecture on Christian Science in First Church of Christ, Scientist, Des Plaines, next Sunday afternoon, October 3, at 3:30 o'clock. Mr. Sammons will speak on the subject, "Christian Science and the Quest for Security." He is a member of The Christian Science Board of Lectureship.

Formerly vice-president and general manager of an engineering manufacturing firm, Mr. Sammons resigned from this work in 1931 to devote his time exclusively to the public practice of Christian Science healing. During World War III, he served as a Christian Science Wartime Minister at military posts in Wyoming and California.

Proper Disposal Of Dead Animals Prevents Disease

If you have a disease problem on your farm, you can help to prevent its spread or outbreaks of a new disease if you will dispose of dead animals properly.

In fact, the state law requires that you burn, bury or have them hauled off by a licensed rendering company, says Dr. D. A. Willigan, University of Illinois veterinarian.

IF YOU DECIDE to bury the animal, dig a six-foot hole as close to the carcass as possible. Roll the carcass into the hole, and cover it with a layer of lime. Then throw in the dirt from the ground where the animal was laying. This dirt often contains disease germs that other animals will pick up. Finally, fill the hole with clean soil.

The easiest way to burn dead carcasses is to cover them with oil. Add a layer of straw and finally a layer of heavy, fairly dry manure.

ALWAYS WEAR rubber gloves and boots when you handle dead animals—they may have had an infectious disease. To prevent the spread of germs, move the carcass as little as possible. Wash and boil your clothing before you wear it again.

Record Cow

Averaging 23 quarts daily, Gayjean Montvic Inka Star, a registered Holstein owned by Dorothy Hammerstein of Roselle, recently completed an official herd improvement registry production record totalling 17,798 pounds milk and 513 pounds butterfat in 360 days.

Testing was supervised by University of Illinois, in cooperation with the Holstein-Friesian association of America.

Milked two times daily, Gayjean was 9 years and two months of age when her test began. Her total was about 3¼ times the production of the average U.S. cow.

Corporation Taxes

Collections of corporation franchise fees and taxes for the first eight months of 1954 are $201,127.53 greater than at the same time last year, secretary of state Charles F. Carpentier reported.

The totals for the two periods were: 1953, $4,089,964.48; 1954, $4,291,092.01.

Organization of new corporations is 172 ahead of last year's totals. So far this year, 5,254 new groups have been issued charters or granted certificates of authority.

Forestry Show To Feature New Girdling Tool

The time-consuming practice of girdling undesirable forest and timber trees by hand may soon be eliminated through the use of a new mechanical tree girdler, according to forestry specialists at the University of Illinois College of Agriculture.

Illinois central forestry agent W. W. May will give demonstrations of this new girdling machine at the logging, sawmilling and forestry show on October 7 and 8 on the John Hauberg farm in Rock Island county.

The machine, which can be operated by one man, girdles undesirable trees cheaply and rapidly. This practice kills the trees to make room for the reproduction and growth of desirable commercial timber.

Dairy Show 1st To Use Expanded Amphitheater

The International dairy show will be the first event to utilize the huge addition to the International Amphitheatre at the Chicago Stock Yards when the 2nd annual dairy show is held October 9 to 16.

Work on the 188,000 sq. ft. structure, adjoining the present building at the south, is being rushed for completion in time for the opening of the dairy show. In part, it will house stock that will be seen in the world championship rodeos, scheduled as an entertainment in conjunction with the dairy cattle show.

INTERNATIONAL dairy show officials anticipate a large number of foreign dairymen will visit the show this year. A world travel agency reports numerous reservations for travel to Chicago by dairymen of South and Central American countries and Europe.

There will be competitions for 4-H and FFA boys and girls to exhibit animals of their own raising in all breeds; and young people will also take part in Collegiate and 4-H dairy cattle judging contests as well as in a collegiate dairy products judging contest that will be introduced this year.

Thirteen rodeos are scheduled. Conducted as sporting events, the country's top cowboys will compete for championship points in a number of dangerous events that will include bronc-riding, bull-dogging, calf-roping, and Brahma bull-riding.

Fire-Fighting Pails

MOST destructive fires start out small enough to be extinguished quickly with a pail of water. Many times, however, the problem is to find a fire pail soon enough for it to be of any value.

Recognizing the need for keeping pails of water where they can be readily located during an emergency, fire safety officials recommend hanging fire pails on hooks in and around buildings and keeping them filled with water ready for immediate use.

They suggest that galvanized steel fire pails be used. These pails are designed especially for fighting fires. They have conical or round bottoms, so that they cannot be used as utility pails. The pails tip over when placed on a flat surface, making it necessary to hang them on hooks.

First Frost Hits Some Corn In Iowa, Wis.

The northwest part of the corn belt in Northern Iowa, Minnesota and Wisconsin was chilled by the first frost of the season on the night of September 21. Temperatures dropped to around 29 degrees to 30 degrees, causing some damage to late corn and garden crops in that area. However, most corn was too far advanced and frost was too light to cause much injury, according to DeKalb Seed Corn crop and weather observers in the affected area. An earlier frost of purely local consequence was reported on September 13 in the highlands of New York, following shortly after hurricane Edna had breezed through.

These early frosts act as a warning to farmers that they cannot afford to tempt Nature's retaliation by growing a long season corn which can mature only under the most favorable conditions. Fortunately, now with the many maturities of hybrid corn available, the farmer can pretty well insure against immaturity before he plants his corn.

THE BIG soybean crop is now in mid-harvest and most growers are being pleasantly surprised with their yields. The heavy rains in August assured good fill and good size to beans nearly everywhere. Yields up to forty bushels are reported from Champaign, county, the leading soybean county of the United States. Just north of there, in Livingston county and surrounding counties, wonderful prospects await the first attack of the combines.

Realizing the necessity of early harvest to avoid bad weather and stalk breakage by high winds, more and more farmers are turning to picker-shellers so that corn can be harvested earlier and dried artificially. Many other farmers with ordinary pickers will be in the fields by October first to rush the harvest to completion.

Keep New Livestock Purchases Healthy

Don't overlook disease when you buy new livestock, warn veterinarians at the University of Illinois.

Insist on proof that hogs have been vaccinated for cholera and that hogs and cattle have been blood-tested for brucellosis. Don't buy hogs from rhinitis-infected herds. Otherwise, if the animals are infected, they may pass disease on your own home herds.

Just to be sure that new breeding stock doesn't have disease, isolate them from your own herds for 30 days and have your veterinarian retest them. If nothing shows up in that time, add them to your regular herds.

Here's an additional note on feeder cattle: When they arrive, give them plenty of water and a medium-quality hay. Start feeding them grain gradually after a few days. Don't turn them out on legume pastures when they first arrive, or bloat may take a heavy toll.

Remodel That Crib For Shelled Corn Storage

If you have decided to change from ear corn storage to handling shelled corn, you can double the capacity of your present corn cribs by remodeling them to store shelled corn.

J. O. Curtis, agriculture engineer at the University of Illinois college of agriculture, says that if you need more storage space on your farm for corn and grain, being able to remodel your crib might be one factor that would make you decide to change from an ear corn system to handling shelled corn.

First big problem to solve is making the structure weathertight, Curtis says. Instead of spaced cribbing, as is needed for safe ear corn storage, you'll need to build a solid wall to keep out wind and rain.

Next, you'll have to make the crib strong enough to hold shelled corn or small grain. Outward pressure on the side walls is about three times as great with shelled corn as it is with ear corn, the engineer points out.

For added strength, Curtis suggests an outside walling strip 6 feet off the ground made of 6 x 6's. He also recommends 7/8 inch tie rods spaced four feet apart across the crib from one walling strip to the other. If your crib wasn't well built originally, you may have to add studs to strengthen the walls.

Be sure to check the cost of remodeling. If it is going to cost more than 35 to 40 cents a bushel of capacity to remodel, you might do better to build new bins.
